B-52's In Raid Against Regiment In D Zone Jungle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force sent a flight of B52 bombers today against a North Vietnamese regiment spotted in the D Zone jungle only 35 miles north of Saigon. Intelligence officers said it was the closest North Vietnamese regulars had been reported to the capital.

The B52s dropped their huge bomb loads only four miles ahead of thousands of U.S. and Australian foot soldiers cutting through the brush with machetes and jungle knives. As Operation Silver City on its 10th day slashed deeper into the old Communist stronghold, the Allied forces found 113 more bodies, bringing the enemy toll in a four-hour battle Wednesday to 275 killed.

An American source said two enemy wounded identified the troops as North Vietnamese regulars. One of them—a Viet Cong—said that his battalion of 400 men was 90 per cent North Vietnamese army regulars.

In the skies over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots evaded some surface-to-air missiles and also spotted enemy planes they thought were Soviet-designed MIG21s, advanced jets equal to some of the best American planes. The MIGs fled without attacking.

Action picked up elsewhere.

The U.S. command reported at its daily briefing: The U.S. 25th Infantry Division cracked into the Bao Trai area, 20 to 25 miles west of Saigon, in a sweep dubbed Operation Honolulu, after the jungle division's home base. Its aim is to clear the Viet Cong from the many waterways and underground networks in the sector.

Tight Ring Of Security At Ole Miss

Robert Kennedy To Address Law Students Friday

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Worried University of Mississippi officials imposed tight security on this tree-studded campus today on the eve of an appearance by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The senator, who played a major role in ending the university's century-old segregation policy, will address the law school student body Friday afternoon.

The appearance of the late president's brother has provoked some criticism in Mississippi. A "rebel flag day" protest rally is set for tonight in Jackson, the state capital 180 miles to the south.

Kennedy's only purpose in coming to Mississippi "is to rub salt into the wound," said Rep. Prentiss Walker, this state's lone Republican congressman.

Some state officials called for a display of Southern hospitality.

Kennedy was attorney general in 1962 when federal marshals and soldiers occupied the campus to quell a riot that followed the court-ordered enrollment of Negro James Meredith. Two men died in the riot and many more were hurt.

The New York senator will arrive by private plane, landing at the airport where the bulk of the 20,000 soldiers dispatched here in 1962 were quartered. He will attend a brief private reception sponsored by the campus Young Democrats Club, then will address the law students at Fulton Chapel — just across the street from where U.S. marshals and rioters clashed in 1962.

From Oxford, Kennedy will fly to Tuscaloosa for an address at the University of Alabama Friday night.

Ole Miss officials said outsiders would not be permitted on the campus during the Kennedy appearance. First priority for seats in the 1,400-seat chapel went to law students and faculty. About 600 remaining tickets were gobbled up quickly Wednesday by other students.

Clinton Brush Fire

CLINTON, Mo. (AP) — A brush fire roared out of control about eight miles east of here today, threatening several farm homes.

The fire, backed by southwest winds of 15 to 35 miles an hour, covered about 90 acres of pasture and farm land near M7. The Clinton rural fire department and more than 50 volunteers were at the scene.

Clinton Man Killed

CLINTON, Mo. (AP) — A 79-year-old man was fatally injured Wednesday night when struck by a car, the first pedestrian traffic fatality here since 1955.

The victim, Archie Redford, who lived in a rest home here, was on the way to church when he was hit by a car at an intersection. He died an hour and a half later.

Police said the driver of the car was Jerry D. Pettis, 17, Clinton.

Freed From Red Jail

No Regrets for Aid To East Escapees

BERLIN (AP) — A young American just released from an East German jail said today he was caught trying to help an East Berlin family escape to a West Berlin and he would try it again if he had it to do over.

John Van Altena, 22, Milton Junction, Wis., was released from a prison in Communist East Berlin Wednesday. He was brought to West Berlin by a New York attorney, Maxwell R. Rabb, who had taken an interest in the case.

Van Altena was released after serving 17 months of an 8-year sentence for what the East Germans call aiding refugee flight.

He told a news conference he had been in five prisons, was given no work and for the "first 12 months I was alone in a cell big enough for two men."

He was allowed 20 minutes of exercise a day in what he described "as a sort of cage."

He said he tried to help a family of three escape and was caught at the Communist wall crossing point opposite the U.S. Army's Checkpoint Charlie. The mother of the refugee family and her daughter, 5, were in a false compartment in his car, he said.

Van Altena, down 10 pounds from his normal weight of 165 pounds, was pale, his hands shook and he smiled nervously.

Van Altena said he had built the hidden compartment into his American car at his own expense and—if he had succeeded in bringing out the mother and daughter—he would have gone back two days later to get the father.

"If I had it to do over, I would do it again. But I would do it more carefully," he said.

To Honor Cyrus N. Johns

Cyrus N. Johns, New York, chairman of the board, American Chain and Cable Co., Inc., a former Sedalia, and brother of Mrs. C. E. Messerly, 400 Dal Whi Mo, is one of five men who will receive the Missouri Honor Award for Distinguished Service in Engineering to be presented by the University of Missouri at the annual Engineering convocation this evening. He will be presented a bronze medal and citation.

Mrs. Messerly, her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John Lamy, 509 West Broadway, and cousins, Mrs. J. Milton Singleton, Mrs. Floyd C. Atwell and son, Charles, all of Kansas City, will go to Columbia for the ceremony and banquet, and Mr. Johns will accompany them back to Sedalia to spend the weekend with his sister.

Known to his friends in Sedalia as "Cy," he was born here on July 29, 1894, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johns, his father being with the Johns Lumber Co., here. He was graduated from the old Sedalia High School in 1912, attended the University of Missouri, Columbia, being graduated with the class of 1916. It was that same year that he began his long career with the Page Steel and Wire Co., which is now a division of the American Chain and Cable Co.

Probe Mystery In Space

No New Light On G-8 Mishap

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts rode a destroyer toward Okinawa today, while space officials dug into the mystery of the violent mishap that brought their mission to a hair-raising end in the waters of the Pacific Ocean.

The destroyer Leonard F. Mason, which picked Neil Armstrong and David Scott out of the water after the first emergency landing in U.S. man-in-space history, was scheduled to put them ashore at Naha at 6 p.m. EST.

Both were reportedly to have come safely through the dangerous re-entry which abruptly terminated their scheduled three-day flight just 10 hours, 42 minutes after the blastoff.

At a morning news conference at Houston, Flight Director Gene Kranz said it will be some time before officials can say what caused Gemini to buck in space, knocking the astronauts out of their seats.

The trouble which sent the spacecraft into a hair-raising spin happened when there was no voice or telemetry communication between earth and the spacecraft. The cause will not be known, Kranz said, until after an extensive review of flight data.

The astronauts were given a preliminary one-hour physical examination soon after boarding the Mason and were reported in good condition.

An air rescue pilot who flew over the Gemini as it bobbed in the calm waters of the Western Pacific said the pilots were "acting real cool" after the harrowing experience.

Armstrong and Scott had opened the spacecraft hatches, Capt. John W. Maddox, of Mesa, Ariz., said, "and they were just sitting there enjoying the sun and eating lunch."

But the troubles they experienced apparently were so dangerous that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration refused to let newsmen hear tape recordings of the astronauts' voices during the critical period when Gemini 8 was out of control 185 miles above the earth.

"None of us know what happened," Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center, told a post-midnight news conference today.

"But it was very serious and it took utmost effort of the crew to regain control and conduct a safe re-entry and landing."

President Johnson reported he was "greatly relieved" at the safe return of the astronauts (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 6)

Work On Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Engineers said Wednesday work on the Arkansas River Navigation channel is on schedule and funds recommended in the budget for the year starting July 1 should continue to maintain the timetable.

Brig. Gen. Richard H. Free, southwest division engineer, testified concerning the projects before a Senate subcommittee.

The engineers expect the nine-foot channel to be completed to Little Rock by 1968, to Fort Smith by 1969 and to near Tulsa by 1970.

he was taken in membership in the Beta Theta fraternity and had dinner in that fraternity house as the guest of his great nephew, Jim Lamy, Wednesday evening. Young Lamy is also taking engineering at the University of Missouri.

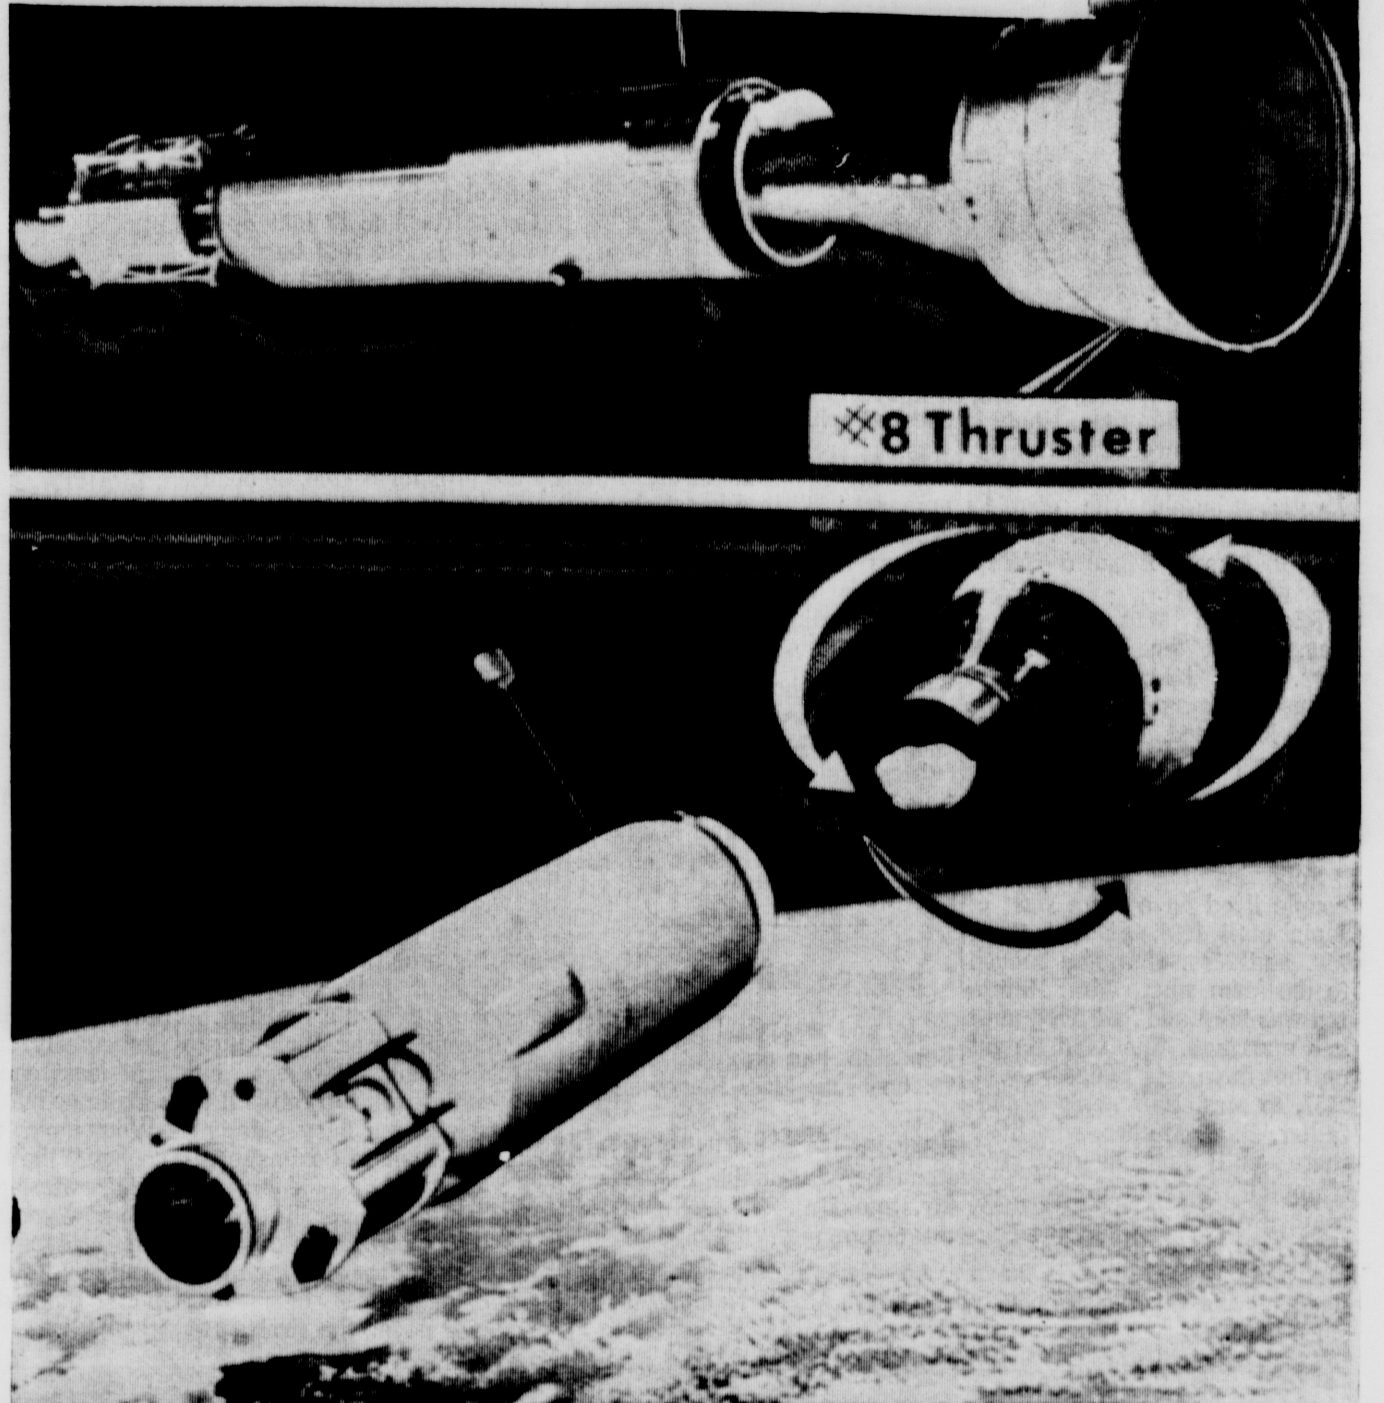

After receiving his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Missouri he began his life's work by working summers with Page Steel and Wire in Monessen, Pa. which in 1920 was acquired by the American Chain and Cable Co., Inc. After graduation from the University he served as a naval officer in World War I, and then returned to Page Steel and Wire, where he held positions of production manager, assistant works manager, works manager and general manager.

In 1937, he was elected a director of American Chain and Cable Company, Inc., became vice-president of operations in 1939, executive vice-president in 1946, president in 1951, chief executive officer in 1955, and chairman of the board in 1965.

In 1953, Johns received an honorary law degree from Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa. He is an honorary life member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and a member of the American Iron and Steel Institute. In addition to being director of American Chain and Cable Co., he is a director of the William T. He is a member of the advisory board of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., and of the Chemical Bank New York Trust Company at Rockefeller Center.

He was honored on June 1, 1957 by the Chamber of Commerce of Monessen when the chamber designated it "Cy Johns Day" paying tribute to the high rank he had reached and in appreciation for his services to the community.

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON—The space spectacular of the Gemini-8 spacecraft and the Agena rocket was cut short by two days when bucking and pitching began after the capsule was docked nose-to-nose with the Agena . . . as seen in top drawing. Astronaut Neil Armstrong quickly backed away, but the roll and pitch on Gemini-8 continued. Agena soared serenely on (bottom drawing). The thruster that failed—No. 8—was one of the maneuvering units located toward the Gemini's aft equipment compartment. If such a thruster is fired alone and not with one of its matching thrusters on the other side of the craft it sends the spacecraft into a spinning movement. Armstrong separated the Gemini from the Agena and was able to stabilize the flight by firing a set of re-entry rockets. (UPI)

Rolled End Over End

Sound from Space Aired for Newsmen

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 8 astronauts were riding a violently tumbling spacecraft during a hair-raising 30 minutes in space Wednesday, tape-recorded conversations with the astronauts revealed today.

"We have serious problems here. We're tumbling end over end," command pilot Neil Armstrong told a tracking ship as he emerged from a communications blackout over the Western Pacific Ocean.

"It's rolling and we can't turn anything off," Armstrong called down from space.

Minutes later, Armstrong said he had switched to an emergency control system because he was unable to do anything with his main engines.

Shortly thereafter Armstrong reported the Gemini 8 spacecraft was starting to stabilize. He followed this with: "Relax. Everything's okay."

Mission Control Center in Houston, Tex., evaluated the situation quickly and told Armstrong and his space partner, David Scott, to prepare for an emergency re-entry.

The trouble occurred seven hours into the flight at about 6:40 p.m. EST. They splashed to a landing in the Western Pacific 500 miles east of Okinawa at 10:23 p.m.

They were picked up by the destroyer Leonard F. Mason early this morning and were due to dock at Naha, Okinawa, at 6 p.m. EST. They will fly Friday to Cape Kennedy.

Recommend Stand-By Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Economic Committee has proposed that Congress enact a standby tax increase but finds the experts divided on whether the boost should actually be put into effect.

Four noted economists split, two against two, in testimony Wednesday on whether taxes should be raised at once to fight inflation. Three of them emphasized that despite some heating the price pot is not yet boiling.

The witnesses disagreed also on some details of what taxes should be changed, how, and by how much. But all said an income tax rise should be included, and all held that the spade-work should be done now for an anti-inflation tax law which might never be used.

The hearings continue today. While a subcommittee headed by Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., received testimony Wednesday, the full committee issued its formal report evaluating the President's annual economic message to Congress.

Cite Truckers As Violators Of the Rules

Five Sedalia and area motor contract carriers are listed among 227 intrastate trucking concerns which have been cited by the Missouri Public Service Commission for failure to comply with commission regulation William R. Clark, PSC chairman, said Thursday.

Violations include failure to keep proper insurance on file, failure to have a proper schedule of rates and charges on file at the PSC and failure to file annual reports.

"In some cases," Clark said, "the carrier is delinquent on only one count, but in others the carrier has neglected to fulfill two or more of the PSC requirements."

Failure to comply with these regulations, he added, can mean cancellation of authority from the PSC. Some violations, Clark said, go back as far as 1959.

"The commission is issuing this blanket order to clean house on the truck files," he said. Included from Sedalia and area are the following carriers with the date of notification of failure to comply with regulations listed. Data was supplied by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

Roy Miles, Stover, Jan. 3, 1965; Earl M. Wright, Warsaw, Oct. 1, 1965; Sedalia Trucking Co., Sedalia, Dec. 16, 1965; G. L. Morris, Route 3, Sedalia, Oct. 5, 1964; and Lester R. Davis, Lincoln, April 30, 1964.

Deadline for meeting PSC requirements is either May 10 or 11, depending on which order the carriers are listed.

Credit Skill, Courage In Safe Landing

Eighth Spacecraft To Have Trouble Of 12 Launched

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Eight of America's 12 manned space flights have run into major problems. But the courage, skill and training of astronauts have prevented any disasters.

When Gemini 8 began to spin violently Wednesday, command pilot Neil A. Armstrong, a civilian, made a last-ditch decision to use his only remaining system of maneuvering jets to bring it under control.

If he had exhausted the fuel in the system, his life and the life of pilot David R. Scott, an Air Force major, could have been jeopardized as they returned to earth.

In 1961, before any American achieved orbit, Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom had to swim for his life when the hatch blew on his spacecraft at sea after it landed.

In 1962, Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter was forced to steer by the horizon when a short circuit cut off the device that told him which way his Aurora 7 was pointing.

Just last August, Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. nursed Gemini 5 through 120 revolutions after it looked like a fuel pressure problem might force them down after six. If it had been unmanned, space officials said, it would never have come down.

The only manned space-flight problem that astronauts did not have a hand in dealing with was the failure of the Atlas-Agena 6 last Oct. 25.

That Agena target ship blew up before orbiting and astronauts Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford climbed out of their Gemini capsule before launch time.

The first American in orbit, John H. Glenn Jr., then a Marine lieutenant colonel, had to take partial manual control of his Friendship 7 on Feb. 20, 1962, when a small jet thruster failed. President Johnson praised Armstrong and Scott for having shown "remarkable courage and poise under stress." They pulled the Gemini 8 out of a spin that reached at least six revolutions a minute and brought it to a landing almost exactly in the middle of the planned landing zone.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hampton Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hampton

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hampton, Route 1, on their 50th wedding anniversary was held Feb. 20 at Antioch Baptist Church. The couple's daughter, Mrs. John E. Vannoy, and their son, Leonard Hampton, were hosts.

Miss Anna Mae Mather, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mather, and Mr. John E. Hampton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hampton, were married at the bride's home Feb. 20, 1916, by the Rev. James M. Freeman, a Baptist minister.

Following the marriage, the couple lived on a farm west of Ionia until 1920. At that time, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton moved to the farm where Mrs. Hampton was born and had lived until her marriage. The land patent on that farm was issued Nov. 3, 1857, to Mrs. Hampton's grandfather, B. T. Mather, who lived there until his death. Mrs. Hampton's parents, the Richard Mathers, lived on the farm until they sold it to the Hamptons. Mr. and Mrs. Hampton have lived on the farm continuously since 1920.

The serving table, which was covered with lace over gold, was centered with a triple tiered wedding cake, featuring the numeral "50" in a heart shaped crown. Gold candles in crystal holders flanked the cake. The cake was served with punch, nuts and mints by Mrs. Larry Wayne Hill, a niece.

The guest book was attended by Mrs. David Guibert, the couple's only granddaughter. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. Robert Keyte, Mrs. Gary Keyte and Miss Rebecca Keyte, all nieces of the couple.

Observe Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hein, rural Bunceton, had as guests March 13, honoring Mrs. Hein's birthday:

Afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kahle, Bunceton.

Age Has Many Faces, Few True

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How young in heart are you?

Age is measured by many things—by changes in hair color, the acquisition of wrinkles, slowing of physical activity.

It is also shown by a hardening of the mental arteries, the growth of cynicism and prejudice, and the development of a dislike for meeting new people or having new experiences.

By these last standards, some are elderly before they get out of college; others still are youthful at 70.

One's true age is told by the spirit. It is the real barometer of youth. And you are still pretty young in heart if—

You don't mind picking up a baby, even if it looks pretty sticky.

When you hear of a 21-year-old football player being signed by the pros for a $200,000 bonus, you rather envy the fellow instead of thinking it is a national disgrace.

You can fill out an income tax form without getting an ulcer attack.

If one of your nephews decides to grow a beard, you don't necessarily think he's gone batty.

There are more things you like than dislike.

Children today don't seem much different to you than when you were a child yourself.

You can talk to a teen-ager about his ambitions or his hobbies without feeling self-conscious or sounding patronizing.

You recall the past with more affection than bitterness, but you wouldn't want to relive it as you are still too busy planning what you want to do in the future.

If a woman driver beats you to a parking place, you don't let it upset your digestion for more than two days.

You are never the first guest

Un-Irish Fare St. Pat's Day

HUDSON, Wis. (AP) — St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in Hudson will serve a distinctly un-Irish fare on St. Patrick's Day.

Mrs. William Mulvaney began cooking spaghetti as a voluntary church duty for a St. Patrick's Day dinner 10 years ago and it became a tradition which has carried into many Hudson homes.

One St. Patrick's day dinner Bishop James Shannon, president of St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn., was a special guest.

At the end of the dinner he honored the cooks with these words:

"The Germans serve us sauerkraut.

"The French serve crepe suzette.

"But here among the Irish

"We gotta eat spaghetti."

Accidentally Shot

SPARTA, Mo. (AP) — Terry Luttrell, 12, was fatally shot in the chest when a gun that Terry's twin brother was examining accidentally discharged.

The Christian County coroner, Dean Harris, said Gary Luttrell, 12, was in one room of the house and the bullet went through a door into an adjoining room and hit Terry.

The weapon was a .30-.30 rifle.

to leave a cocktail party.

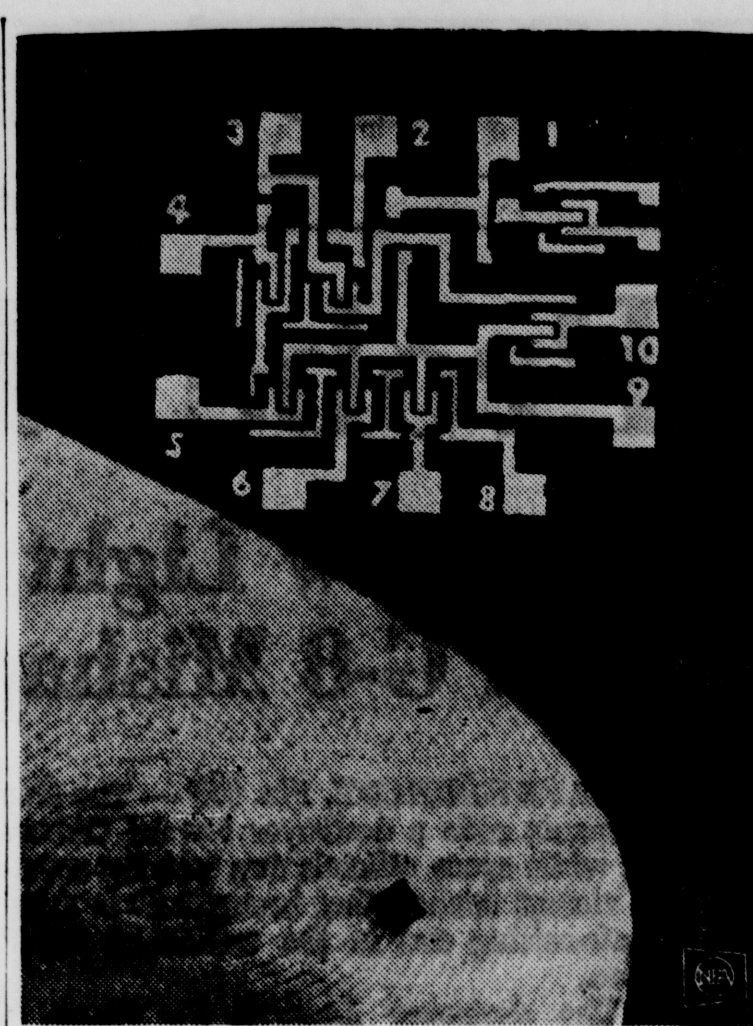

Now and then you hear a joke you haven't heard before.

The advent of another April makes you feel lazy, but not particularly sad.

At least one day a week you whistle or hum while shaving.

You have as many friends younger than you as you do friends who are older.

So now you know whether you still hold springtime in your heart—or have become just one more fuddy-duddy on time's treadmill.

TEENSY TRANSISTORS—The parts for modern electronic devices, getting larger and larger themselves, are getting smaller and smaller. This computer part, shown magnified 100 times above and in actual size on a fingertip below, turned out by a West German firm is little larger than a pinhead but contains 15 silicon transistors, 13 resistors and all necessary connections and switches.

Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I have been going with Tom for three years. It's his right name and you can use it. Our friends and relatives know all about this situation and you won't embarrass me one bit.

Tom was supposed to give me a ring for my birthday two years ago but his horse got sick and the ring money went for an operation. He took the band off his cigar and said "We are engaged." That was it.

Tom spends every spare minute at the barn. He owns three horses and if one doesn't look right he will break a date with me to sit and talk to the vet. Last night I was trying to get him to set a wedding date and he called me "Debbie" (that's the name of his filly).

His whole life is wrapped up in horses. He even smells like a horse. He says he loves me as much as he can love a woman but the horses come first. Should I marry him if I can get him to agree on a June wedding?—UNDECIDED.

Dear Undecided: Any woman who would consider marrying a man after he has told her that she is running fourth (after three horses yet) doesn't need advice. She needs a saliva test.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know whether to laugh or cry, feel complimented or insulted, slap the guy's face or give him a great big hug.

Here's the rundown and I'd like you advice. I'm 20, single, not beautiful, but no house-haunter either. A very attractive man, also single, (and one I'd like to know better) came by my desk a few minutes ago and said, "If you will lose 15 pounds, let your hair grow back to its natural color and put on a little lipstick I will buy your dinner at the finest restaurant in town."

Half of me says he is an insufferable jackass who has a lot of crust trying to make me over. The other half of me says if he wasn't interested he wouldn't have been so brazen.

How do you figure it?—BOWLED OVER.

Dear Bowled: He may be an insufferable jackass but I'll bet you'd look a lot better if you lost 15 pounds, let your hair grow back to its natural color and put on a little lipstick. Why don't you take him up on it? He may have to stand in line to buy you that dinner.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 15-year-old girl who feels as if she is ready for the booby hatch. There are four generations living in this house and it's more than I can stand.

My mom is O.K., and we would get along fine if only her mother and her grandmother weren't on her back every minute.

My grandmother is 62 years and very old-fashioned and bossy. She tells mom that all teen-agers today are wild and that I should not be allowed to date until I am out of high school.

Great-grandma is 83 years old and she bosses both my grandmother and my mother. She also bosses me.

My dad says I have to be respectful of my elders and must mind them all. Please, please give me some help. — LOONS-VILLE.

Dear L: I agree that you must be respectful of your elders, but you should not be disciplined by all those women. It's up to your parents to set the limits for you and I hope they will get everyone else out of the act.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Extension Men From India Speak of Home

B. Ranganatha Rao and P. N. Singh, extension workers from India, showed slides to personnel of Monticau County ASCS, Monticau Extension Center and Production Credit Association March 10 in California. A typical Indian Pilau was prepared and served by Mrs. Viola Smith. The Indian men showed slides and charts pertaining to their native country.

Attending were: Leroy Althoff, Victor Schlup, Joe Oligschlaeger, Russel Knorp, Miss Vivian Shores, Mrs. Herman Hodges, Miss Dorothy Knorp, Miss Charlene Haldiman, Mrs. Don Ratcliff, Mrs. Viola Smith, Mrs. Marian Langkop, Mrs. Gene Rohrbach, Mrs. Robert Crawford and Don Watson.

Liberace Mimicked

The Missouri Pacific Women's Club met March 7 at the Little Theatre with the program a humorous take off on Liberace and Brother George by William Morgan at the piano, as Liberace and Jesse Gwinn as Brother George. Morgan played many favorite selections of the group. Tables were decorated in keeping with the St. Patrick's theme.

ORATION WINNERS — Kathy Mann, right, eighth grade student at St. Patrick's School speaking on the subject, "Investment in Learning," was judged winner of the civic oration contest finalists March 15 at Sacred Heart Auditorium. Runner-up was Carol Cooney, eighth grade pupil at Sacred Heart School. Engraved wall plaques, won by Misses Mann and Cooney are held by them. A permanent trophy, presented to the school will be engraved with Miss Mann's name. Other high ranking contestants include James Wanserski, Marilyn Gibson, Stacy Trotter, Denise Wells, from Sacred Heart; David Kemp, from St. Patrick's. Modern Woodman of America sponsored the event, the 19th annual event on a nation-wide basis.

People In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson goes to Hollywood this weekend to celebrate her 22nd birthday in the company of her boyfriend, actor George Hamilton.

Hamilton, 26, invited the President's daughter to join him and his mother at their Beverly Hills, Calif., home for a special birthday present.

Lynda, who will be 22 on Saturday, will fly to California from Austin, Tex., where she is a senior at the University of Texas.

The White House has been mum on the plans for the birthday observance. Nor was there any word from Hamilton about the birthday surprise.

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Sylvester Magee is eligible for medicare by about 60 years. He will be 125 years old May 29, the way he figures it.

Magee signed up for medicare, but he has had little need for its benefits in his 125 years.

"He doesn't smoke or drink and his only vice is chewing tobacco," says O.T. Houlditch, assistant manager of the Social Security Administration district office. "And he can eat anything he can buy."

Magee said he was born into slavery on a plantation near Carpet, N.C., and sold to a planter in Rankin County, Miss.

He has thick white hair, three teeth, is 5 feet 8 inches high and weighs about 140. He lives on welfare.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Gen. Cevdet Sunay has been appointed to the Turkish Senate in a preliminary move to election as president of Turkey.

Sunay, armed forces chief of staff, has the support of all political parties to replace ailing President Cemal Gursel.

Gursel is in a coma at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington following a stroke a month ago.

Attend Red Cross Training At Base

Eight prospective Red Cross volunteers from Sedalia took part in a Red Cross basic training program at Whiteman AFB March 14, Mrs. Jane Menefee, executive secretary of the local chapter said Wednesday.

Attending the training course were: Mrs. N. D. Schwemer, Mrs. J. P. Lamy, Mrs. James E. Sandford, Jr., Mrs. R. W. Bennett, Mrs. Glen M. Kell, Miss Erma Fajen, Mrs. Ira M. Mounts and Mrs. John Maxwell.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Menefee and Mrs. Edward Hoffman, chairman of volunteers at Bothwell Memorial Hospital.

The course was conducted by Mrs. Godfrey Twachtman, volunteer field consultant for the Greater Kansas City Red Cross Chapter, who has been active in this field for a number of years.

Schirra and astronaut Frank Borman received tikis on silver chains at a reception in the town hall today from Mayor Roy McElroy.

Schirra had difficulty getting the chain over his head. And when McElroy said he hoped the astronauts would wear the tikis on their next flight, Schirra answered: "I suspect I shall. I don't think I'll be able to get it off."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson went to the Big Top with 6,000 underprivileged children to watch the clowns and 3-ring circus acts.

The youngsters, mostly of preschool age from Head Start programs, were treated to cotton candy, milk and hamburgers at the circus Tuesday.

Mrs. Johnson sat with the children and pronounced the circus "a fantastically good time." Mrs. Johnson is honorary chairman of the Head Start project.

Reviews Are Often Misleading

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporations are flooding the mails with annual reports these days. And their legions of owners can indulge in one of America's most satisfying pastimes — deciding who's the biggest.

But a company that's tops when viewed from one angle may not be from another.

The biggest money maker, for example, is well down the list of companies with the largest assets. And at least a million more persons prefer to own stock in the company that's the runner-up in profits than to hold shares of the corporation that's the top dog in total sales or revenues.

The annual see-saw on who is the biggest money maker already has been won. General Motors takes the title for the second straight year. With a record $2,125,606,440 of profits in 1965 it made $329 million more after taxes than did runner-up American Telephone & Telegraph with $1,796,094,000. Jersey Standard Oil was third with $1,035,000,000.

But the phone company can claim to be the biggest of all if the measure is total assets. It now has $40,388,648,000, up nearly $10 billion from 1964. AT&T also is far ahead of GM, whose assets are $11,478,546,590. And the auto giant probably trails the oil company, which hasn't reported yet for 1965, but had $12,489,565,000 in assets at the end of 1964.

These top money makers in the auto and oil industries are far below the leading banks and insurance companies when it comes to assets. Metropolitan Life counted 21,398,602,000 at the start of 1964 and Prudential $21,015,885,000.

The Bank of America reported assets of $16,528,957,604 at the end of 1965 for fourth place. Chase Manhattan, New York, was fifth with $15,331,407,583, and First National City Bank, New York, sixth with $13,976,787,000.

Still another measure of bigness is the total of sales or revenues. Here GM is the champ, as in profits, with sales of $20,733,982,295 in 1965. Jersey Standard reports $12,725,000,000 in revenues, and the phone company $11,061,783,000.

Sears, Roebuck's latest figures are around $7 billion, while the A&P grocery chain tops $5 billion.

Mrs. Lambirth Heads Sedalia PTA Council

Mrs. Claude Lambirth was elected president of Sedalia Council of Parents and Teachers March 9 at First Baptist Church. Retiring president is Mrs. Jake Summers.

Mrs. Lambirth and the following officers will serve two years: Mrs. Morris Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Guy M. Snyder, second vice president; Mrs. Grant Cox, third vice president; Mrs. James McCall, fourth vice president; Mrs. Paul Dey, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Staley, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Clayton Wright, historian.

In conjunction with the March "Well Informed Citizens" program, the following candidates for school board membership were introduced and gave viewpoints and answered questions: John Gross, Robert Gardner, C. W. Monsees and Bob Johnson.

Barry Williams, representing Sedalia Jaycees, talked about the proposed junior college and answered questions.

Mrs. Harley Sanford, Smith-Cotton High School PTA president, announced plans for the annual Variety Show, to be March 30 and 31, with the theme, "Salute to Broadway."

Sedalia council, with Mrs. Harley Sanford, hospitality chairman, was March hostess and conducted an ice breaker. Opening devotional, "He," was sung by Mrs. Edwin Worley, Whittier School, accompanied by Mrs. Owen Fox at the piano. Minutes were read by Mrs. James Shull, secretary; treasurer's report, Mrs. Grant Cox; roll call, Mrs. June Lamb.

A report on the recent school board meeting was given by Mrs. Dean Dedrich, Heber Hunt unit. Mrs. Stanley Fisher, council Parent and Family Life chairman, previewed PFL events. A report on Founders' Day committee was given by Mrs. Lambirth.

Real High Drama For TV Fans

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The big space doubleheader Wednesday started off in what has become, to veteran viewers of rocket launchings, completely uneventful fashion.

The countdown moved along briskly. The old space hands like ABC's Jules Bergman, CBS' Walter Cronkite and NBC's Huntley-Brinkley-McGee team slipped easily into the sometimes colorful, often confusing jargon of the astronauts.

When the sleek Titan rocket with its human payload lifted off gracefully in a cloud of coral-colored smoke, the preliminaries had been so precise and businesslike that this viewer, for the first time, watched with interest but without apprehension.

During most of the afternoon the networks returned to their usual strings of soap operas, game shows and comedy reruns until it was time for Gemini and Agena to dock. Then all networks returned to their special coverage, trotting out all their models and gadgets to demonstrate — for the 20th time, it seemed — the way the two crafts would join. It was still a textbook operation.

Then, in the middle of the early news shows on CBS and NBC, word came of the "violent maneuvers" of the docked capsules and astronaut Armstrong's report that Gemini continued to roll uncontrollably.

CBS' Walter Cronkite never finished the news show and continued right on covering Gemini. NBC, for some reason, started to broadcast its regular program, "The Virginian," but not for long. ABC started "Batman," then reported on Gemini, went back to "Batman" and finally dropped it. Fictitious adventures were dropped for real, high drama.

Information was scanty all through the evening. The television reporters speculated cautiously and soothingly — there was not much else they could do — but their own apprehension was obvious.

The good news finally came around 10:30 EST — it seemed to have been an eternity — that a rescue plane had "the space craft in sight" and that it had splashed down. Then, at 11:30, the suspense was definitely over — although the mystery of the malfunction was unsolved.

The three networks, as usual, did thoroughly workmanlike jobs of demonstrating in various ways all details of the space flight. One's choice of program could only have been dictated by the viewer's preference in commentators or the channel on which one had the best reception. All three did imaginative and professional coverage jobs.

Mrs. Plumlee To Presidency

Mrs. Charles Plumlee was elected president of the Past Presidents Club of the Social Order of Beauceant, of Assembly No. 23, which met at the Plumlee home, 810 West Sixth, Monday evening, March 14.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Henry Niemann, vice-president; Mrs. John Staubli, secretary; Mrs. J. H. Gwinn, chaplain.

The by-laws were submitted and accepted by the club.

It was voted to make a donation to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation in honor of Grand Commander Harold Painter and Mrs. H. Sides, supreme president of the Social Order of Beauceant.

The next meeting will be a picnic June 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Skolaut.

Tornadoes strike most frequently in the four-state belt taking in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, as shown on Newsmap of annual averages throughout the United States. But the devastating wind cones can range all over the map, striking unexpectedly almost anywhere in the country. The cost in death and property damage is high. In April of 1965 alone, 45 tornadoes raked the Midwest leaving in their wake 243 dead, some 5,000 injured and well over $200 million in property damage to businesses and homes.

Hopes Not To Stand At Wrong Time

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If someone else's name is called," says Oscar nominee Ruth Gordon, "I hope I don't stand up and make a fool of myself."

Naturally she hopes that her own name will be announced April 18 as winner of the award for best supporting actress of 1965. But she has insulated herself against disappointment.

Miss Gordon was nominated for her role as the raucous mother of Natalie Wood in "Inside Daisy Clover." Oddly, she has been nominated for an Academy Award before, but as a writer—she and husband Garson Kanin wrote several films for Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn and for Judy Holliday.

"But this is the first time I have been up for an Oscar as an actress," she reported. "I would be less than honest if I didn't say I would dearly love to win. After 50 years as an actress, such a reward would be highly satisfying."

Fifty years? It seems incredible, but the lovely, electric actress readily admits to her 69 years.

"I played extra in the early days of movies at Fort Lee, N.J.," she said. "One of the pictures I appeared in was 'Madame Butterfly,' starring Mary Pickford."

There was a lapse in Miss Gordon's film career as she starred on Broadway. She came to Hollywood in the 1940s to appear in such films as "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" and "Action in the North Atlantic." Although she wrote screen plays here, there was an interval of 23 years before she returned as an actress in "Inside Daisy Clover" and "Lord Love a Duck." "Now I'm ready to try my luck in films again," she said.

'Nothing to Hide'

FERNDAL, Mich. (AP) — What residents in this Detroit suburb didn't know about their neighbors may soon be revealed.

Ferndale is experimenting with transparent garbage bags. City Manager J. William Little says the heavy-duty bags would line trash cans. On garbage pickup days, homeowners would haul the bags to the curb, leaving trash cans undented at the rear of the house.

Little says the bags save collection time. "Besides," he added, "Ferndale has nothing to hide."

Protests Bell Toll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Rev. Gregory I. Yasinitsky appears at the district attorney's office this week to answer a complaint about the thrice-daily ringing of the bells at his Calvary Methodist Church.

Edward Plummer, who lives with his family a block away from the church said the bell ringing interferes with his wife's rest and his children's television viewing.

Pessimistic On State Budget Bills

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Members of the House Appropriations Committee were pessimistic today about the possibility of having all 16 of the budget bills ready for House action when the House comes back for floor work Monday.

Only two bills have cleared the committee so far.

One is the emergency bill of almost $3 million to help out money-shy agencies and institutions the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30.

The other is a normally routine payment of interest on state debts. It's one that usually clears either house with a minimum of debate.

Rep. Bernard Simcoe, D-California County, House appropriations chairman, said he thought "it is humanly impossible to get all the bills cleared this week."

He said aside from the two bills already approved, he wanted to keep the budget measures in a package so the budget could be kept in balance. That procedure would mean the House could act only on the first two bills next week and could force a change in the schedule.

The House had planned to work a full week beginning Monday.

Simcoe said he hoped to keep the committee in session until noon Friday to get as much work done as possible. But some members said they planned to go home Thursday and that might break a working quorum for Friday.

Generally, members said, the budget items were being followed with some changes up or down on individual figures.

Reports drifting out of the closed door sessions indicated there was dissension among both Democrats and Republicans over some of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' recommendations.

One committee member who asked not to be quoted said some of the more inexperienced members of the committee had slowed the work by what he called "nit picking" at small items in the budget.

Ten senators met briefly in a technical session then adjourned until Monday.

Senate committees now have given first round hearings to all their bills but only three have been reported out for floor debate.

Tuesday a bill to permit "shared time" training of parochial and private school students in public schools ran into some opposition before the Senate Education Committee.

World News In Brief

NEW DELHI (AP) — Language rioting is dying down in Punjab State as dpolice have the situation "completely in hand," a government spokesman said today.

Reports from the Punjab city of Jullundur, a center of violence for several days, indicated life again was normal there with many shops reopening after a six-day general strike.

The trouble broke out last week when the government announced plans to split Punjab into two language states, one for punjabi-speaking Sikhs and the other for Hindi-speaking hindus. Right-wing Hindu groups rioted in protest.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A Boeing 727 jet with 78 persons aboard landed safely on two engines at Sydned Airport today after the turbo fan in one of its three engines shattered.

About 10 pieces of hote metal fell on suburban Eastlakes, but no injuries were reported. The biggest piece recovered weighed about four pounds.

The plane, operated by the Australian Ansett-Ana airline, had just taken off for Brisbane.

LONDON (AP) — Three building workers ended a sitdown strike atop a 250-foot crane Tuesday night convinced they had won their case. They came down to earth to find they had lost their jobs.

Four men — all steel erectors —had climbed up to the crane cab Monday to protest layoffs and cuts in bonuses on a $25.2-million building project in London's financial district.

Late Tuesday one man came down, suffering from exhaustion. Later a union representative persuaded the others to quit, suggesting that the strike had had the desired effect.

On landing, they were told

Stokley Club Hears Lessons At March Meet

Five members of Stokley Extension Club gave lessons at the March meeting at the home of Mrs. W. T. Summerskill.

Participating were: Mrs. Fred Gibnell, speaking on civil defense and safety; Mrs. Louis Staples, health and Medicare; Mrs. Dannie Wulff and Mrs. Summerskill, home management.

Members voted to contribute articles for the state sanitorium at Mt. Vernon at the April meeting.

Forty cancer dressings were made in the afternoon. Members also exchanged food recipes. Mrs. Harold Whittall, president presided. Minutes were read by Mrs. Wulff.

Children who were guests were Amy Staples and Kimberly and Troy Schroeder.

Mrs. Louis Staples will entertain the group April 5, with 10 a.m. business meeting and group meeting at the REA Building in the afternoon with other extension clubs.

NFU Turns Leadership Over to Two

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The National Farmers Union has turned its leadership to two men who, leaders believe, will work together ideally to achieve the organizations goals of higher farm incomes and a larger membership.

Tony T. Dechant, 50, of Denver, secretary-treasurer since 1946, was elected president by the organization's annual convention which closed Wednesday night. He succeeds James O. Patton who retired after 25 years of leadership.

Working with Dechant will be Edwin Christianson, 56, of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, who was elected vice president to succeed Glenn J. Talbot, a long-time North Dakota farm leader who also retired.

Dechant, a quiet-spoken man who moves with the assurance of a business executive, contrasts sharply with Patton, a husky, militant and driving crusader for welfare programs at home and abroad.

Dechant knows more members of the Farmers Union than any other leader of the organization. Friends said he knows best how to widen the base of the organization's membership, now heavily concentrated in the Great Plains, the upper Corn Belt, and the Rocky Mountain states.

By the same token, Christianson was looked upon as an ideal assistant to work the Washington beat for the organization, where much effort is waged in behalf of farm legislation and administration decisions on that legislation.

Christianson is a close personal friend of two top leaders in the Johnson administration — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman — both of whom also are Minnesotans.

they had been fired for "industrial misconduct."

The four said bonus cuts had halved their pay to 12 pounds ($33.60) a week. The contractor also dismissed 56 other workers, claiming low productivity levels forced the cutbacks.

ROME (AP) — Lining up along party lines, the Italian Chamber of Deputies gave Premier Aldo Moro's new center-left coalition government an expected vote of confidence Tuesday night.

The vote was 347-251 with deputies of the four coalition parties holding ranks.

Medicare Forms Available At The Post Office

Application blanks for supplemental Medicare benefits are available at the stamp window of the Sedalia Post Office, according to postmaster Maurice Hogan.

The application blanks are being made available as the Social Security Administration seeks to contact 3.1 million senior citizens before a March 31 deadline imposed by the Medicare law.

President Johnson has proclaimed March as "National Medicare Enrollment Month." He urged all federal agencies and all citizens to cooperate in enrolling senior citizens in the program.

Initially, some two-and-one-half million application blanks were distributed to nearly 34,000 main post offices throughout the 50 states. Additional forms are available as needed.

Through direct mailings and other means, the Social Security Administration has had contact with 16 of 19.1 million citizens who will be 65 or over on July

Still Spry At 101

DETROIT (AP) — At 101, Adam Wurster enjoys an occasional drink, smokes cigars, and walks half a mile every morning.

Stepping off a plane from Florida the other day, he refused to use the airline's wheel chair and walked away spryly.

"I'll probably go to Florida again next winter," he said.

Wurster, a retired farmer, has 49 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. His wife died in 1919.

1. Of the 16 million who replied, less than one million said they did not want to sign up for the supplemental program.

The supplemental program costs $3 a month and provides doctor bills and other benefits. Everyone 65 and over is eligible for the basic hospital benefits under Medicare.

A copy of the application blank is displayed on the bulletin board at the Post Office.

Senior citizens who reached 65 before 1966 face a two year delay if they do not sign up March 31. The application forms are preaddressed to the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland.

No 'Police Brutality'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A municipal judge told a policeman in his courtroom how to handle hoodlums who threaten to shoot him.

"If they go for their pockets, kill them and ask questions later," Judge Howard L. Aaron advised the arresting officer after a 17-year-old youth had threatened to kill him.

The judge also told the youth he was making a notation of the threat "so that if you're shot by a police officer no one will be able to yell 'police brutality'."

Duck Rips Hole In An Airliner

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A jetliner with 60 passengers landed safely here Wednesday after a collision with a duck tore a 12-inch hole in a wing.

The Delta Air Lines DC9, on a flight from St. Louis to Memphis, landed without incident despite the flurry of fire engines and rescue vehicles waiting at the runway.

Delta officials said the twin-engine jet was at 3,000 feet when it flew into a small flock of ducks.

Capt. David Thayer of Chicago, the pilot, said the jet was "coming down when I heard a thud and felt her shudder a little bit."

"I knew we had hit a bird," Thayer said, "but I didn't know where. But I knew everything was all right when we came on down. I'd declared no emergency and I was a little surprised to see the fire trucks."

The bird smashed into the front of the plane's right wing, midway between the tip and the fuselage. "We sent the fire trucks out as a precautionary matter, which is usual."

A Federal Aviation Agency supervisor in Kansas City said the jet struck the bird during takeoff from St. Louis, but that it was not reported until the plane had reached cruising altitude.

"The only reason we learned of it then was the pilot requested permission to reduce air speed to compensate for a damaged wing," the supervisor said.

Pneumonia Fatal

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Benito Cruz had not been feeling well. So their son, Jose, took them from their farm home to a hospital for a checkup.

Cruz, 49, collapsed in a hallway and died. Mrs. Cruz, 40, taken to the emergency ward, died 15 minutes later.

The coroner's office said they died Monday of pneumonia.

Most to Experience

ROME, Ga. (AP) — Farmer W. M. Cargle sued a seed store for $417 on grounds the seeds it sold him were the wrong ones. He wanted to grow purple-top beets, but got something else.

The Superior Court jury returned the price of the seeds, but decided to charge to experience his claims of $40 for depreciation of his mule, $225 for land damage, $50 for use of his tractor, $90 for rent of the land, $10 for fertilizer, and $2 for insecticides.

The seeds cost $1.

Ice Cream Escapade

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The party is over for 14 youngsters accused of stealing enough ice cream since January to fill 16,500 cones.

The youngsters — aged 9 to 15 — had slipped into a fenced area around an ice cream factory, broken into trucks and taken 275 gallons of ice cream.

Judge Sam Davis Tatum fined them from 25 cents to $5 each and placed them on probation.

Block Mothers Plan To Aid Lost Children

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — The red, white and blue shield displayed on 139 houses in South Orange, means little to most passersby but to the children in the area, it means "friend."

The shields are a sign of safety for elementary school children who get into trouble, are harassed or get lost on their way home.

The plan, now in effect for South Orange's Marshall School District was organized by Ralph De Rose after his wife read about a similar plan in Oklahoma.

"It's always difficult to get a child who's in trouble to get streets to seek aid in a strange house," said De Rose, an attorney.

"This plan is designed to overcome that problem. "Kids who get lost are encouraged to make use of the friendly 'block mothers' also," he said.

There are two homes on every block in the Marshall school area displaying the shield.

'Knippels' In Garment Union Fund

NEW YORK (AP) — David Dubinsky talks hoarsely, shouts because he likes to and breaks into a broad grin when he says he's leaving his Garment Workers Union with a $500-million "knippel" in its treasury.

Dubinsky, 74, a Polish immigrant who rose from a button-hole maker to head the 447,000-member organization, says "knippel" is Yiddish for money stashed away for hard times.

"I'm not expecting any, but it's plenty nice to have on hand," he said.

Dubinsky, who retired Wednesday as president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union after 34 years in office, has been explaining about "knippels" for years.

At a meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, he lectured President George Meany on them.

"It's a little hard to explain, but I took out my handkerchief and showed him just how you tie the knot right so the money doesn't fall out," Dubinsky recalled. "Now he knows."

Dubinsky was one of the last of the union leaders who grew up with the labor movement, guiding it out of the sweatshops and hiring halls into an era of member-owned hotels and health clinics.

He will remain as a vice president of the AFL-CIO and as vice chairman of New York City's influential Liberal party.

Dubinsky has enjoyed a close relationship with Democratic presidents since Franklin D. Roosevelt. The last law President John F. Kennedy signed authorized a federal commemorative medal for the 50th anniversary of the ILGWU's health center, the first ever established by a union in this country. President Johnson came to New York in 1964 to dedicate a plaque on the anniversary.

Says Johnson Leading US Into a War

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., charged Wednesday that President Lyndon B. Johnson is leading the United States into war in Viet Nam.

Morse, a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policy, said the President is leading us to war and has been since he walked out on his campaign platform.

The Oregon senator made the statements at a news conference before speaking at a labor-management conference Wednesday night of the Industrial Relations Club of Greater St. Louis.

Morse told the meeting that he believed section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law—which allows states to vote on so-called "right to work" laws—is "gross, conceptual conflict with basic theories of our national labor policy."

He said the section is contrary to what he termed "our concept of uniformity and at the same time unduly interjects the government into the free collective bargaining process."

Review Of Lionism By E. B. Smith

The Sedalia Lions Club at its regular meeting Wednesday, heard a review of Lionism by Edgar B. Smith, former president of the club and now an International Counsellor. Smith was introduced by Don King, vice-president, who was program chairman of the meeting.

This month being one in which the Past Governors and International Counsellors, who have served as District Governors, are honored by the Lions Clubs, programs have been arranged in which these men participate.

Smith served as District Governor in 1955-56 and since that time has been serving as a Cabinet Secretary. He spoke on progress of the various clubs in the district of which Sedalia is a part, Multiple-Missouri District 26G, and explained various activities of the clubs.

He then turned his attention to the Sedalia Club, reviewing it for the past ten years, its growth and decrease in membership, over the years, and the activities held and proposed.

Introduced to the club were two new members, Morris Roseboom of Prudential Insurance, and Joe Bazin, of Meadow Gold, who transferred to Sedalia from Jefferson City.

Issue Warrant For Second Man At California

Police authorities are continuing the search for the second of two men who reportedly robbed the McKnight Clothing Store in California early last Sunday. The first man, John McCallister, 38, Chicago, was apprehended after he was wounded shortly after the robbery, police said.

Monterey County Sheriff Walter Haldiman said Thursday a state warrant had been issued for Leroy Simmons, Chicago, who is the alleged accomplice of McCallister.

Sheriff Haldiman reported that both men face charges of burglary and larceny. McCallister is being held in the Monterey County jail in California in lieu of $5,000 bond. Sheriff Haldiman said.

Authorities reported Simmons was last seen in Boonville, where he purchased a ticket for Chicago. Police in that city, Haldiman reported, have been alerted and provided with information concerning the incident.

To date, no report has been received from Chicago, Haldiman added.

Earlier reports stated the McKnight concern was robbed early Sunday morning and that one man had made his escape on foot.

Church Offers Facilities For Junior College

One of the first gestures of an organization to offer its facilities to the proposed Junior College was officially made Tuesday night at a meeting of the Calvary Episcopal Vestry, 111 East Broadway.

The vestry board went on record by formally stating, "The Calvary Episcopal Vestry expresses its willingness for the facilities of the Calvary Church to be put at the disposal of the Junior College should they be needed." The Vestry also voted to contribute $200 to the promotion and education of the public on the Junior College proposal, this check being turned over to the Citizens Steering Committee for the Junior College.

On April 5, citizens of Pettis and Benton counties will go to the polls to determine whether a Junior College should be established in this area.

Members of the current Calvary Episcopal Vestry, which represents the membership of the local Episcopal Church, include: Jake Deck, George Dugan, Jr., Leroy Hodges, Dr. Carl Siegel, Dr. James C. Alexander, Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, Edward J. Ferrari, Robert Gardner, Miss Marian Phipps, R. A. Fitzwilliams, A. J. Morgan, Gentry Patterson, and the Rev. William E. Lusk.

The first call came at 10:33 a.m. from 605 South Massachusetts and the second came at 11:06 a.m. from 800 North Missouri.

Sedalia firemen were called to the Robert W. Holder residence, 806 East Fifth, at 2:05 p.m. Wednesday, where burning trash next door had set fire to his house. Firemen reported no damage, however.

Sedalia firemen were summoned to 1035 South Warren at 2:42 p.m. Wednesday where a grass fire was in progress. Firemen listed as the cause another blaze intended for burning off a garden. There was no damage.

Police Court

William J. Morris, 614 West Seventh, running a stop sign, forfeited a $5 bond.

Nancy Holly, 1117 East Broadway, improper lights on a motor vehicle, forfeited a $5 bond.

Doris Odel, 404 East 19th, permitting a vicious dog to run at large, forfeited a $10 bond.

Henry Fulcher Jr., 405 West Clay, destruction of property, pleaded innocent. The case was nolle prosequi by the city attorney.

Richard Lee Cline, 216 East Pettis, destruction of property, forfeited a $25 bond.

Accidents

Two parked vehicles were involved in separate hit-and-run accidents Thursday morning.

The first reported hit-and-run occurred at 6:12 a.m., involving a parked 1957 Buick owned by Jennie F. Bistline, 1423 South Osage. The left front of the Buick was damaged. The accident occurred at the above address.

The second accident took place at 7:17 a.m. involving a parked 1962 Oldsmobile owned by Mary Alice Timbers, 1214 South Osage, and took place at that address. Damage occurred to the left side of the Timbers car.

Police are investigating.

No one was injured in a car-taxi accident in the alley in the 200 block of East Third at 4:55 p.m. Wednesday.

A 1964 Rambler, driven by Alva E. Lemens, 37, 1526 East Fifth, collided with a 1963 Checker, driven south on a drive by Jesse W. Garrigus, 43, 2417 South Grand.

The left front of the Rambler and the front of the Checker were damaged.

The 1300 block of South Grand was the scene of a two-car accident at 7:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Involved were a 1960 Rambler, driven west on a private drive by John Henry Brooks, 69, 1316 South Grand, and a 1965 Chevrolet, driven north on Grand by Juanita C. Johnson, 45, 1415 South Beacon.

Damage was to the right rear of the Brooks car and the left front of the Johnson auto.

Police Reports

Glass on the west side of the telephone booth in the 100 block on East Main was found broken out Wednesday night. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was notified by police.

Victor Felts, Whiteman AFB, reported two men had thrown a rock against his car, damaging the right front door. The men were later arrested on a warrant sworn out by Felts, police said. The incident occurred about 10 p.m. Wednesday.

George Hughes, 13, son of Mrs. Sarah Hughes, 1816 South Brown, received three puncture wounds to his left knee when he was reportedly bitten by a dog in the Whittier Grade School play yard.

According to the boy's mother, several dogs were in the yard and children were attempting to chase them out when the Hughes youngster was bitten.

Sedalia police records indicate that a warrant has been sworn out for the suspected owner of the dog.

Young Hughes was treated by Dr. T. S. Hopkins.

Raymond Jess Merriot, 17, 1810 South Quincy, who was arrested Tuesday by Sedalia Police for investigation of the theft of a transmission from a car belonging to Wally Calvert, 718 East Ninth, on Feb. 16, was turned over to Pettis Co. Sheriff Emmett Fairfax Wednesday.

Merriot was released from the county jail Wednesday after meeting a $1,000 bond. Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz said a state warrant for stealing property valued over $50 had been filed against Merriot.

His preliminary hearing is set for March 24 in Magistrate Court.

A leak in a gas main at 303 East Johnson was reported Wednesday evening. Missouri Public Service was notified.

Steve Davis, 314 West Seventh, reported a boy's 26-inch bicycle abandoned at 310 West

Broken glass was reported in the street at Broadway and Ma-

Warsaw Rotary Club Gets Charter; 175 Are Present

Rotarians and their wives from 17 Missouri Rotary clubs were on hand Wednesday night for the Charter Presentation Banquet of the new Rotary Club of Warsaw. The meeting was held in the Community Building in Warsaw and more than 175 were in attendance.

Walter Riffle, of the Osage Valley Bank, Warsaw, was installed as president of the new club by Tom Buckley, Independence, Mo., governor of Rotary District 607. Other officers are: Max Voelzke, vice-president; Charles Blount, treasurer; Fred Wimmer, secretary; Stanley Intelman, sergeant-at-arms, and Jack Weddle, Galen Heritage, Dean Harpham and Cebrt Breshears, directors. In addition to the officers, other charter members are: Charles B. Stowe, Jr., Louis Fauquier, Herb Heritage, J. D. Wishard, Albert Rohning, Roy Bradley, Clyde Edmonds, Paul Ilo, James Ewing, Forrest Gregory, A. J. Long, Arnold Hessefort, Richard Kingma, Harold G. Hutcheson, Felix R. Parker and A. A. Fowler.

Following the dinner, the group was entertained by the Warsaw High School Chorus of fifty voices under the direction of Joe Bockelman.

Dr. M. Graham Clark, President of the School of the Ozarks, Branson, and Rotary District Governor elect, was the speaker of the evening. "Facing Up To One's Responsibilities" was his theme. He pointed out that man too often chose four means of escape — suicide, alcoholism or drugs, preoccupation, or rationalization rather than accepting life's realities and responsibilities.

He called for all men to use their God-given talents to the best of their ability, and to give their best to their home, their church, their community, to their worthwhile organizations to make their lives, and the lives of those around them, more full and meaningful.

Participating in the meeting from the Sedalia Rotary Club, which sponsored and helped to organize the Warsaw club, were William B. Rich, who was master of ceremonies; Fred Crnic, Sedalia Rotary Club president, who gave an address of welcome to the Warsaw Rotary Club; James Denny, who led in group singing; and Jess Brown, former president of the Sedalia Rotary Club and past district governor, who presented a gavel to the new club. Crnic presented an engraved bronze Rotary bell on behalf of the Sedalia club.

Invocation was given by the Rev. George E. Ryder and the benediction was by Father A. J. Brunswick, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Warsaw, a form pastor of the Sacred Heart Church in Sedalia.

Gifts to the new Warsaw club were made by many Rotary Clubs throughout the district. Virgil Walter, Buffalo, presented official Rotary Song Books; James Long, Clinton, a large Rotary Club banner; Charles Allen, Kansas City, a U.S. flag and holder; Dr. Clark, on behalf of Branson-Holister and Springfield clubs, lapel pins for all members; Robert Merrill, Raytown, Rotary meeting badges; Dr. S. Thomas and Lester Birdsong, Lebanon and Osceola clubs, a badge box and lectern; Boyd Donnell, representing the Marshall and Lexington clubs, a leather brief

Mobile Test Run Through Sedalia Today

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Fifty cars left Wichita this morning heading for St. Louis, 447 miles away, in the Mobil Economy Run.

Les Viland, driving a Rambler American, is averaging 24.39 miles per gallon to lead the Los Angeles-to-Boston run. Viland is a nine-time winner in the Class A for compact six cylinder cars.

All of the leaders are averaging more than 20 miles per gallon except in the luxury group where Mel Alsberry Jr., driving an Oldsmobile Toronado, is in front averaging 17.84 mpg.

In Class C, Bob Binder, driving a Plymouth Belvedere, is closing in on Viland in the informal mileage competition with a reading of 24.56 mpg.

Bob Checkley leads in the compact 8-cylinder Class B with an average of 22.33 mpg in a Dodge Dart. George Miller, in a Dodge Coronet, is averaging 22.83 mpg, the best in Class D.

Pat Sawyer, in Class E, maintains a lead with an average of 22.12 in a Chevrolet Biscayne.

Driving a Chevrolet Impala, Don Royer leads in Class F while Marta Retzlaff, in a Buick LaSabre, leads her male rival, Art Arions, by a slim .23 mpg in Class G.

To Discuss Crisis Facing Treaty Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets with top State and Defense Department advisers tonight on the crisis in the Western Alliance over moves to pull France out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The scheduled meeting will be the second in two days. There was speculation that the President was considering sending a new message to De Gaulle setting forth more explicitly than in a previous letter U.S. reaction to the French break-away program.

Summoned to the early evening session were Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary George W. Ball, Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus R. Vance, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, ambassador to France, Charles E. Bohlen and Assistant Secretary of State John M. Leedy.

Rusk, Acheson and Bohlen were among Wednesday's participants. One official said that one reason for the meetings at this time is that Johnson is getting a report from Bohlen on French policy and attitudes. The envoy returned from Paris last weekend.

Officials said the major lines of U.S. policy in the crisis are clear: The United States is confident that NATO will remain as a 14-nation defense system under the Atlantic Alliance regardless of De Gaulle's withdrawal. Johnson is represented as having made clear that while the U.S. position on NATO itself must be absolutely firm, he does not want any avoidable difficulties with De Gaulle.

Two specific issues which are beginning to take form in policy discussions here concern the legality of De Gaulle's projected action and his responsibility for paying the cost for upsetting present NATO arrangements.

Administration officials are understood to be developing a legal case that under the Atlantic treaty itself and other related agreements, De Gaulle actually has no right to pull French forces out of NATO and upset supply arrangements based in France for the NATO defense front in Germany.

Informed officials say that no one in authority here questions the power of the French government to do what De Gaulle has outlined in various notes to the other Allies.

The developing U.S. argument is said to be rather that in breaking its treaty commitments, France assumes a legal responsibility to compensate the other Allies for the inconvenience and disarray created in an effective, operating defense system.

Coroner's Inquest Confirms Cause And Time Of Deaths

A coroner's inquest into the deaths of Steven Joe Wright, 20, Lee's Summit, and John Michael Skinner, 19, Bethel, Kan., confirmed the time of death and causes, according to Johnson County Coroner, Dr. Keith Jones.

Dr. Jones said the inquest held that both youths had died as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident; that Wright had been the driver; that he had fallen asleep and then awakened shortly before impact; and that ground fog was a contributing factor to Wright's losing his way on the highway.

Dr. Jones also said the probable time of the one-car mishap had been confirmed as being 2 a.m. Sunday. Information indicated the pair had been in Sedalia at 1:30 a.m.

Cause of death for Wright, Dr. Jones said, was multiple head and chest injuries, while the skull. The inquest, held in Warrensburg, got underway at 12 noon Wednesday.

Combine Vegetables

With Other Foods

To add variety to your meals, two or more vegetables may be used in one dish or the vegetable may be cooked with other foods. If there are left-over vegetables or if the vegetables are not of the best quality, this lack of quality may be covered up by adding a highly flavored sauce as a cheese or a hollandaise. These sauces may also be used for variety. You might like to try one of the following ways of preparing and serving these vegetables.

SCALLOPED: For three cups of cooked drained vegetables, use 1 1/2 cups of medium white sauce and 1 cup of buttered bread crumbs. Arrange vegetables and white sauce in alternate layers in baking dish and top with bread crumbs. It is preferable to use white sauce, rather than sprinkling flour over each layer of the vegetable and adding milk. This avoids curdling and lumping and you are more sure of a desirable consistency. Small amounts of different leftover vegetables may be put together and scalloped, or fresh cooked or canned vegetables may be scalloped. Egg, meat, or cheese may be added for variety and for extra food value and flavor. A scalloped vegetable with cheese or meat may be used for a one-dish meal or as the main dish of a meal.

CHOWDER: A vegetable soup, but there are more vegetables and it is thicker. Salt pork or fish is used as the base, rather than beef or chicken, and hot milk added just before serving.

CREAMED SOUPS: Vegetables are strained or grated and proportion of vegetable puree added to thin white sauce. The and white sauce will vary with the flavor and the thickness of the vegetable puree. Usually 1/2 as much vegetable pulp as thin white sauce is used but if the vegetable is in a liquid form, equal parts are used.

CREAMED: White sauce blends well with plain cooked onions, turnips, cucumbers, asparagus, peas and most other vegetables. Use about one-third as much white sauce as vegetables and pour the hot sauce over the hot vegetable just before serving. Do not stir, but lift the vegetable enough to have each piece coated with the sauce. To the creamed vegetable, you may add bits of fish, meat, hard cooked egg, or grated cheese. Creamed vegetables should be served as soon as done.

SOUFFLES: They are made by adding egg yolk and the vegetable pulp to a thick white sauce and folding this mixture into the beaten egg whites. This is baked in a slow oven until set.

CROQUETTES: A very thick white sauce is used to blend well seasoned shredded, chopped, ground, or grated vegetables. This mixture is shaped, dipped in egg, in crumbs, and then fried in deep fat. The croquettes are less likely to break if you let them set about an hour before they are fried.

FRITTERS: These are made by covering pieces of slices of vegetables with a batter and frying in deep fat.

TIMBALES: The chopped, diced, grated or strained vegetables are combined with slightly beaten eggs and scalded milk to make an unsweetened custard. The custard is baked in small timbales, in a baking dish or in custard cups set in a pan of hot water in a slow oven until the mixture sets.

GLAZED: Boil equal parts of sugar, corn syrup, and water for 3 minutes and add 1 tablespoon of butter for each cup of sugar. Pour this mixture over partly cooked vegetables sliced lengthwise which have been placed in a single layer in a baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven until tender, basting several times.

SALADS: Using vegetables as salads offers one of the best opportunities for using fresh and cooked vegetables. Fresh or leftover vegetables may be tossed together or kept in separate groups and put together for a salad.

Rice Week in America

The third week in March (March 13-19) has been designated Rice Week.

For most Americans rice is not the key to survival but part of our heritage of plenty and multiple choices for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Popular forms of rice on the grocery shelf include white milled rice, parboiled, precooked rice and rice seasoned with spices and herbs.

Enriched rice must have thiamin, niacin and iron added. To avoid wasting nutrients do not wash rice before or after cooking.

International Rice Year

For about 1,100 million people rice is practically the whole diet, nearly all of their agriculture and most of their hopes.

With the goal of updating rice production to help alleviate hunger, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations designated 1966 as International Rice Year.

The United States is participating in the observance. The Secretary of Agriculture has announced that the U. S. Department of Agriculture is supporting the event with a large number of activities in cooperation with the U. S. rice industry.

In 23 countries special efforts will be made to use water more skillfully, to plant improved rice seed, increase the use of fertilizer, to mechanize where possible and to develop disease and pest control programs.

In rice growing countries television and radio will be asked to broadcast special programs. Schools, universities and training centers will provide lectures, exhibits and demonstrations of machinery and improved rice cultivation methods.

A total of 200 million acres of land is cultivated in rice (90 per cent in Asia) but production does not meet the requirements for a good life for millions. Improved rice production can mean a better life for one third of humanity.

Are Peanuts Nuts?

Did you know peanuts aren't nuts at all? No, they are legumes, and they belong to the pea and bean family. They contain a liberal amount of high quality protein. Peanuts are a good source of energy and lend richness to breads and other foods they are combined with. They are exceptionally high in the important B vitamins.

Okay Building Plans

COLUMBIA (AP)—Preliminary plans for a $2.6 million biological sciences building at the University of Missouri have been approved by the curators.

It will be named for the late Dr. Clarence Mitchell Tucker, a botanist who was internationally recognized for development of disease resistance through breeding of tomatoes and other plants. He was on the university faculty from 1931 to 1954.

The five-story building will have an attached greenhouse. The curators said bids will be asked this coming summer.

S-C Dramatists Give Two Plays March 18 and 19

Smith-Cotton Drama Club will present two one-act plays, "The Ugly Duckling" and "Box and Cox." Friday and Saturday nights in the S-C Little Theatre. The plays will begin at 7:30 each night.

"The Ugly Duckling," a farce in one act, was originally written for the young children's theatre but has since become popular with adults and teenagers.

An amusing situation arises in one act, and queen, Jim Carter, junior, and Pam Price, senior, try to marry off their cursed princess to a supposedly homely prince of a neighboring kingdom.

The remainder of the cast consists of Brenda Wiseman, senior, Terry Phillips, junior, and Michelle Ustickie and David Nichols, freshmen.

The play is directed by Jim Carter.

"Box and Cox" is a fast moving comedy of two fellows, Craig Cassing, junior, and Andy Alexander, sophomore, as they discover they've been sharing the same apartment and the same girl. Pam Mark, sophomore, plays the unfortunate girl.

The Drama Club is sponsored by Walter McCormick, speech instructor.

A basket dinner was held March 13 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carroll and children, Bunceton, to honor their son, R. C., on his birthday, and to observe the homecoming of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Carroll, son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Jessie L. Carroll, Route 1, Boonville.

The Delmer Carrolls recently returned from Tachikawa, Japan, where they spent three and one-half years. Carroll, who is in the Navy, will next be stationed at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Attending the dinner Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eichelberger, Pilot Grove; Mrs. Jessie Carroll, Boonville; Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Eichelberger and family, Betty Suter and children, Lettie Potter and children, Edgar Link, Columbia; Mrs. Edna Crawford, Mrs. A. J. Bouse and children, Kansas City. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Graves, Lone Elm.

A. Bixler Attends LP-Gas Board Meet

Aubrey Bixler, Bixler Gas Company, Ottumwa, vice president of Missouri LP-Gas Association, attended the board of directors meeting in Jefferson City March 10.

The LP-Gas Exposition will be in St. Louis June 26-28. The board also discussed development of a carburetion school to be May 31 through June 3 at the University of Missouri, Rolla, and addition of several new courses to the regular service schools presented. Each year the association sponsors a four-day training period for Missouri's LP-gas servicemen.

Jim Heckman, president, announced the board will meet in May at Edwardsville, Ill.

Wrong Places to Doze....

Recent accounts of automobile drivers dozing at the wheel and becoming involved in fatal or injurious consequences suggest there are more highway accidents of this type than may be recorded.

Persons suffering from sleep starvation who insist to themselves they can drive carefully are often as obstinate as those tipsy ones who will let no one replace them at the wheel.

Even the most cautious of drivers who have had ample rest can tell you that on occasions they catch themselves nodding on an overland trip that becomes monotonous especially when there are no passengers with whom to converse.

Lack of sleep can cause irritability and irritable persons can have frequent intervals of poor judgment, lack of memory and lapses of preception. This can happen whether they are behind the wheel of an automobile or at work in a factory where they become occupational hazards to themselves and others.

Instances are recorded that loss of sleep during combat caused some serious battle mistakes. Commanders have learned that sufficient food and equipment are not all the elements required to make the difference between success and failure. Adequate rest has a major role in stimulating sharp judgment and split-second calculations no matter what role the individual plays on land, on the sea or in Gemini flights into space, like the one just concluded.

Enough evidence from research is available to indicate that every person should examine and reevaluate personal habits regarding proper rest or the lack of it.

An adjustment in this category of daily routine may prevent an individual from becoming an accident victim because of dozing in the wrong places. GHS

Experts Oppose Isolation of China

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A parade of distinguished scholars and professors has been testifying before the House and Senate foreign relations committees during the past two months which would make Senators Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Pat McCarran of Nevada turn over in their graves.

The experts have been telling Sen. William Fulbright, D-Ark., Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., and other solons that there is nothing traitorous about having contacts with Red China, but on the contrary it's a mistake to isolate China. They would resume diplomatic relations and admit China to the United Nations.

For saving almost exactly the same thing at the end of World War II, Gen. George Marshall, wartime chief of staff and one of the wisest military statesmen this country has known since Grant and Lee, was called a traitor by Sens. McCarthy and William Jenner of Indiana; Secretary of State Dean Acheson was also called pro-Communist, and the top Chinese experts of the State Department were read out of the foreign service.

The latter were not brought back for advice until last month when O. Edmund Clubb, formerly chief of Chinese affairs, testified before Rep. Zablocki's foreign relations sub-committee.

Leafing through my back files and columns I noted the reason why we have become so isolated from China that some generals propose dropping the bomb now. It's the story of how a small group of Chinese politicians and influence peddlers called the China lobby succeeded in completely changing American policy in the Far East.

Hate vs. Patience
Before that period, the United States had been the traditional friend of China. Thousands of its students were educated here, American universities and missionaries educated others in China. In international conferences, we championed China against the British, French and Japanese.

Suddenly the American diplomats who advocated patience with the new Chinese revolution, who cautioned that Chinese communism would shift back to better understanding, were called traitors. Despite their advice, we adopted the doctrine of hate, isolation, suspicion.

Here is part of the significant story as noted briefly in my columns of the past:

MAY 11, 1950—China lobby made the Senate so preoccupied with State Department's Chinese advisers that it's overlooking the importance of French Indo-China and the spread of communism there.

MARCH 27, 1951—China lobby poured money into New Hampshire Republican primary to back Wesley Powell, assistant to Sen. Styles Bridges, and defeat Sen. Charles Tobey. Bridges was the chief backstage Senate operator for the China lobby.

MAY 4, 1951—Bill Bullitt, ex-ambassador

WASHINGTON POST: Artifacts Shortage.

— Our expanding interest in primitive art and primitive artifacts has caused an embarrassing shortage of these objects but the laws of supply and demand are beginning to operate. Word has come from Los Angeles via the Japanese consul general that his country is now supplying Indian souvenirs for the tourist trade in the American Southwest.

Confirmation has come from authorities in New Mexico that the Indians in that state have been unable to keep up with the demand for their native products. The Japanese are ingenious and skillful; they have come to the rescue of the New Mexicans, and no tourist in Taos, Santa Fe or Gallup need go home empty-handed.

Pre-Columbian gold objects are also in short supply, but we have lately learned that this shortage is also likely to end. Any dentist who can cast an inlay can also make an "authentic" bit of Inca or Mayan gold — and some dentists below the border are deriving more profits from ancient arts than from cavities.

to Russia and spearhead of the China lobby, files to China on mysterious personal mission.

Sacrosanct Lobby

JUNE 9, 1951—China lobby has become the most sacrosanct and powerful in Washington. Sacrosanct because so many senators receive contributions from it; powerful because it has Chiang Kai-Shek's brother-in-law, Dr. H. H. Kung, behind it. Kung has retained Louis Johnson, former defense secretary and chief money-raiser for Truman, as his attorney.

Lobby has never been investigated. That's why there was such a long pause when Sen. Wayne Morse, R-Ore., asked Dean Acheson about it and why Sen. Brian McMahon emitted a surprised whistle and why chairman Richard Russell called time for Acheson to answer.

JUNE 18, 1951—Heart of China lobby is the Bank of China, masterminded by H. H. Kung, one of the wealthiest in the world, living in Riverdale, N.Y. He left China after 1944 gold scandal which ousted him from the cabinet and from governorship of the Central Bank for leak about the increase in gold prices, a leak which made millions for speculators close to the Chiang government.

JUNE 23, 1951—If Senate ever carries out its threat to probe the China Lobby, it will unearth the attempt to organize the Chinatowns of 45 American cities with a view to putting U.S. in full-scale war with China.

SEPT. 14, 1951—Sens. McMahon and Morse resolution to investigate China lobby has gathered dust for two months.

SEPT. 15, 1951—Scrutiny of China lobby shows that money American taxpayers voted to help Chiang Kai-Shek was siphoned into pockets of Chinese grafters and American middlemen suspiciously close to certain senators. This is why McMahon-Morse resolution to probe the China lobby has been stalled.

OCT. 6, 1951—Men behind China lobby make money on U.S. commodity market and use money to smear Gen. Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson.

JUNE 22, 1952—China lobby credited with preparing some of Joe McCarthy's speeches.

So runs part of the story of the powerful lobby which dominated American Asian policy in the last decade, instead of the organization charged with conducting foreign policy, the State Department.

The peace pipe used in American Indian ceremonies to conclude lasting peace was called a calumet.

The World Today

One Hand Behind the Back Type War

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everybody watches the Red dragon, the Red dragon looks in the mirror and likes what it sees, and the future shudders.

All through the past few months in the debate about the war in Viet Nam there has been one overriding concern: that Red China might step in, involving the United States in a massive land war in Asia.

The Johnson administration, to calm fears that through any helter-skelter tactics it stumble into war with Red China, has tried to spread assurance that it would conduct the Vietnamese war with restraint.

This puts the United States in the position of fighting a war with one hand tied behind its back. But the Johnson administration has to worry about Red China and American public opinion, too.

This business of keeping the Americans guessing is an expensive weapon for the Chinese since they know, as President Johnson knows, the last thing this country wants is a land war with a nation with 700 million people, like Red China.

It could fight the war at home. The United States could never match it in manpower and would have to transport men and weapons half way around the world to fight at all. The United States could, of course, demolish Red China and its people, by using some of its nuclear weapons. That might be even more hazardous.

At that point Russia, even though it has split with Red China, might feel compelled to assist it, get into the war, and use its own nuclear arsenal against the United States. The result would be chaos for mankind.

But the Red Chinese have even a better weapon than making the Americans worry about a war with Peking now. That's

Red China has suffered a number of recent reverses in its zeal to spread communism: in the East, in its split with Russia and Communist Cuba, and in Africa.

But it can endure these. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara recently predicted that within two or three years Red China would be capable of launching a nuclear attack of its own on countries within 700 miles of China.

Those nuclear weapons will be the best form of blackmail against its neighbors that Red China ever had. The whole picture of Asia may begin to change then.

McNamara further said it would be a decade or more before Red China had the ability to make a nuclear attack on the United States. The Red Chinese might well consider it worthwhile to wait until then before truly beginning to move, whether or not it meant war with the West.

By then, if the United States faced nuclear destruction from Red China, it might be a lot less willing than now to rush to the aid of Asian neighbors who, without American support, would be gobbled up by the Chinese.

The best hope this country and the non-Communist nations of Asia have for indefinite peace is that in 10 years or so the present aged, rigid Red leaders of China will no longer be in power and that their younger successors will have a more reasonable attitude toward their neighbors and the world.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Chicken Liver For Iron and Vitamins

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — My doctor advised me to eat liver for anemia. Would chicken liver be as effective as calves' liver? I like chicken liver better. Are liver extract and vitamin B-12 the same?

A — For persons with some forms of anemia liver is recommended because it is a rich source of both iron and vitamin B-12. The iron is in an organic combination that is more readily utilized by the body than inorganic iron salts. Beef liver is a better source of iron and vitamins than calves' liver but chicken liver is better than either. Liver extract contains concentrated vitamin B-12 but no iron.

Q — If a person has hemolytic anemia, a complicating liver disease and a bad spleen would this be fatal? Would Medrol and large doses of cortisone be helpful?

A — Hemolytic anemia is a disease in which destruction of red blood cells occurs as distinguished from anemias in which there is a failure of the blood-forming organs. Hemolytic anemia may be associated with Rh incompatibility in the newborn, allergy to cold, leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, ovarian tumors, any infectious diseases, many drugs and chemical poisons, severe burns and some poisonous snake bites.

The outlook would depend on the cause and the severity. Drugs of the cortisone group are often helpful. Methylprednisone (Medrol) belongs in this category.

Q — I have been taking Aventyl for depression for eight months. It did not bother me at first but now I get weak and dizzy. Could this be from the drug?

A — Nortriptyline (Aventyl) is a tranquilizer that should not be taken by anyone who has glaucoma or a kidney disease. Among its side effects are dizziness, restlessness, insomnia, blurred vision, drenching sweats, nausea and headache.

Q — I have a disease called dystonia which causes my muscles to go into spasms. Drugs have not helped me. Is there any cure?

A — Dystonia or torsion spasms is similar in many respects to chorea (St. Vitus' dance) and Parkinson's diseases (shaking palsy). The drugs given for palsy have helped some victims but, in general, drug treatment of this disease is unsatisfactory. Surgery offers the best hope for improvement. You should see a specialist in diseases of the nervous system and follow his instructions.

Math Discovery Not New

By Susan Light

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I read your article in the paper about the new math. When I started high school in 1908, I was taught that mathematics is the only true science. We never used "is" or "are" in addition, but the word "equal."

When I took plane geometry, the first proposition in the book was: "At a given point, but one perpendicular to the line can be drawn," the teacher called on me to prove the proposition. I told him I could tell him what was in the book but I didn't think it was right. He wanted an explanation. After I told him, he said he would write to the University of Illinois. The dean at the university answered that the student was right. As a result, all geometries changed that proposition to read: "At a given point in a straight line, but one perpendicular can be drawn — extending in the same direction."

I will close by saying, "Happy sailing down the river of life."

— Old Timer.

Answer: And "happy sailing" to you, too! I take off my wig to any fellow in his 70s who is interested in new math and modern education.

You can't prove your proposition by me. I was never very good at plane geometry but will take your word for it.

What your story does prove, however, is that reasoning and discovery in mathematics aren't exactly new. Apparently students of 60 years ago used their heads, too. You were fortunate to have a teacher flexible enough to appreciate an inquiring mind and to accept your challenge to the existing system.

Even today we have a lot of teachers who are too rigid and unsure of themselves to consider any deviations from what the book says. They fail to realize that we're all human, as you say, and even textbook writers can make mistakes. Besides, what appears to be a fact one day may be outdated the next.

The coming trend in education is a cradle-to-grave approach. Keep up your lively interest, and you'll still be going strong at 90.

Today's North hand was shown as the basis for several questions in the card sense addition to our regular column. When North bid six hearts our comment was "Once you bid Blackwood and find out that your side has enough aces to go to six, you must go to six."

A letter from New York underlines the words you must go to six and asks, "Can there be no doubts, no agonizing reappraisal—I'm probably being too aggressive — my partner may only have six or seven points—is there any reason to think he has more?" Can there be no turning back?"

The answer to our reader is that the turning back should take place before you use Blackwood. You do not—repeat, do not—use Blackwood unless you are prepared to go to six with a combined total of three aces.

North's Blackwood bid represented some slight optimism on his part but one should not change from optimism to pessimism between bids and it behooved him to carry on to six.

South had several ways to play the slam. All worked, but the one he adopted avoided the need to try any finesses at all. At trick two he led a diamond to dummy's king. East took his ace and returned a spade for dummy to ruff. South played out the ace and king of trumps and queen and four of diamonds. He ruffed the four of diamonds and when West's jack dropped he was able to discard one club on the ten of diamonds.

Mets Win Opening Game!

Westrum Turns To A More Positive Approach In NY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Wes Westrum is the only manager in the long history of baseball who can become a rousing success by finishing ninth.

After four years in 10th place with Casey Stengel, newest member of the Hall of Fame, the New York Mets hope to perform the Little Miracle of Flushing Bay by evacuating the National League cellar.

When the Mets won their first exhibition game in Florida it was the first time they ever had won an opener anywhere. A new world record, said Stengel, who watched in his new capacity as vice president.

Buoyed by the power in the bats of Kenny Boyer and Dick Stuart, Westrum has become a positive thinker. "I'm not going to be a 10th-place manager," said the man who took over last July 26 after Stengel suffered a fractured hip and was forced into retirement.

"We're thinking first division," said Westrum.

As the 1965 Mets wound up with a 50-112 record, 47 games off the pace and 36 games out of fifth place, Wes really is aiming high.

"We hope to catch Houston and Chicago and St. Louis," he said. "Baseball is a game of momentum. If you get off to a good start there's no telling how far you can go."

The subject was switched quickly to personnel before Wes got around to claiming the pennant. That is the way things go in spring training.

"We have a little more power with Stuart and Boyer to go with Ed Kranepool, Ron Swoboda and Jim Hickman," he said. "Now the pitchers can't work around our good hitters and get the weak sisters."

Obviously, Westrum has laudable motives.

Stuart, a 28-homer, 95-RBI man but a 234 hitter and Mr. Stonefingers in the infield, has been acquired from the Phils to play first. Ron Hunt, recovered from the shoulder separation that put him out most of last season after making the All-Star team in 1964, is the second baseman.

Roy McMillan, the steady 35-year-old shortstop, and Kenny Boyer, who will be 35 in May, round out the infield. Boyer, of course, was the All-Star third baseman for years at St. Louis, but slumped to .260 last year.

To make room for Stuart, Westrum has moved Kranepool to left field where he will play with Swoboda, who hit most of his 19 homers before the All-Star break. Hickman will be in center and Johnny Lewis will share right with Cleon Jones, back from Buffalo for a last chance.

With Al Jackson traded to St. Louis, the pitching is thin and young back of Jack Fisher who lost more games, 24, than any pitcher in the league.

Jack Hamilton (12-10 at Syracuse) a refugee from the Detroit system, and Dick Selma (2-1), who struck out 13 Braves in a

September game, are other starters.

Fifth place? Well, maybe ninth. Maybe.

Next — San Francisco.

Agreement In Suit Is Hoped For

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Attorneys in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball hoped to reach agreement today on the admission of secret financial information on National League ball clubs into the record.

Until they agree, the state cannot rest its case. But it appeared likely that this would at last be accomplished today. That would bring baseball to bat on Friday for the presentation of evidence in defense of the National League and its members.

The financial issue is an integral part of Wisconsin's case against the senior circuit stemming from the Braves' move to Atlanta and the alleged consequent boycott of Milwaukee as a major league club.

Counsel held a two-hour conference Wednesday on Judge Elmer Roller's chambers on the confidential financial reports. Afterward, Judge Roller announced that more information was required from accountants who have been examining the material which is under the protective custody of the court. He said the needed reports would be obtained overnight.

Some 234 exhibits offered by the state were accepted by Judge Roller after nearly two full days of frequently heated arguments.

Some, like the popular Arnold Palmer, have that certain unknown ingredient that makes champions.

His biggest year was 1963 when he won $130,835. However, he dropped to $116,068, though still No. 1 money maker in 1964, and plummeted to $82,699 and 10th spot in 1965.

Observers blamed Palmer's many business enterprises for taking his mind of his game. But the 36-year-old native of Latrobe, Pa., apparently has shed some business worries and has been coming back strong this year, winning one tournament, Los Angeles Open, and collecting $36,490 in six events.

Palmer, always quick with a smile, "toured" the 6,873-yard, par 35-36-71 Rio Pinar Country Club course Tuesday in his private, twin-engine jet, letting the crowd below know he had arrived.

A member of the Big Three, Gary Player, a small man at 5-foot-7 and 150 pounds, but a big competitor, continues to wear his traditional black clothing—which he claims gives him strength.

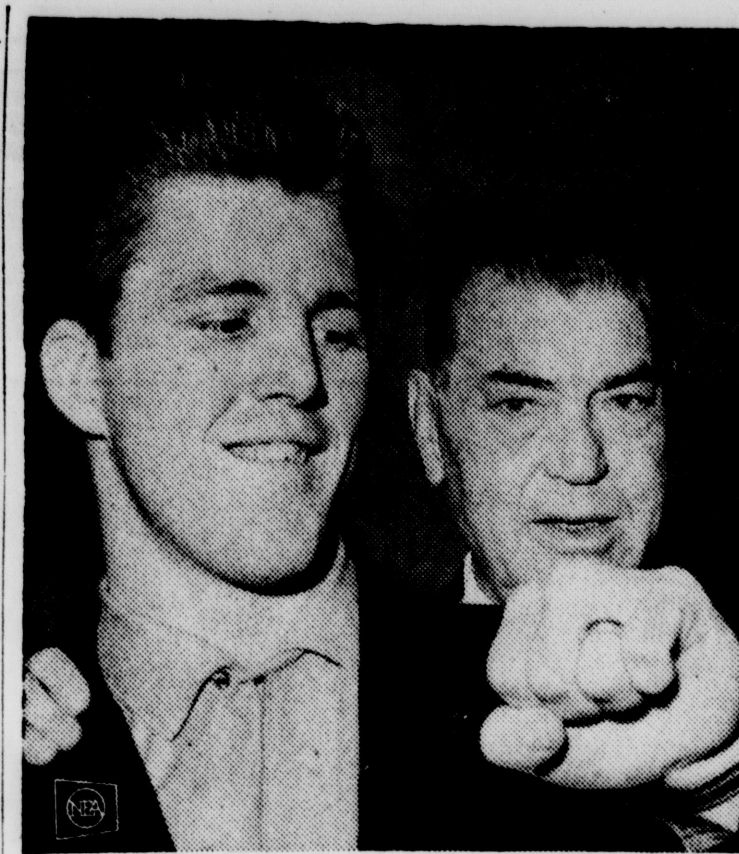

The South African star will be playing for the first time on the 1966 tour, having spent the past three months playing exhibition matches with Jack Nicklaus, another of the Big Three out of the country.

Nicklaus, who has played in only two tournaments this season, stunned the competition Wednesday by winning the $5,000 pro-am event with a record-breaking 64-seven under par.

This inaugural of the Citrus Open could be won by any of the 143 pros and one amateur—Tracy Allen of Winter Park, Fla. The field includes 47 of the 50 top money winners.

PUTT 'N' CALL—In professional golf, they say, "You drive for show and putt for dough." The grimacing countenance of Arnold Palmer, left, is ample evidence of what a missed putt means on the tournament tour. As for Tony Lema, it was one of his better days.

PAST AND FUTURE—California heavyweight Jerry Quarry asks former champion Jack Dempsey if his "knuckle sandwich" looks anything like the one Dempsey used to serve in the ring. Quarry, 20, is one of the heavyweight division's brightest new prospects.

Nebraska, K-State Should Rank 1-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A projection of this season's statistics indicates Nebraska and Kansas State should rank 1-2 in the Big Eight's 1967 basketball campaign.

Nebraska's runner-up club of 1966 will return almost intact except for Grant Simmons, the All-Big Eight playmaker and 15.2 scorer.

Nebraska will have 78 per cent of its scoring power back. K-State 73 per cent. Four teams are grouped in the mid-60s—Colorado, Iowa State, Missouri, and Oklahoma. Oklahoma State returns 46 per cent, defending champ Kansas will have 45 per cent back.

It was the year of the sophomore in the Big Eight this season.

Beliveau Is Approaching Hull's Status

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS In the National Hockey League's pressure-cooker race you couldn't want a better clutch player on your side than record-breaking Bobby Hull—unless of course it's Jean Beliveau.

Chicago's Hull scored his 53rd goal of the season and moved within three points of the single-season point record as he helped keep the Black Hawks breathing down league-leading Montreal's neck Wednesday night with a 4-1 triumph over Detroit.

But the Canadiens, hurting physically, refused to fold, bombing two Toronto goalies for seven goals—two by Beliveau—and a 7-2 victory over the Maple Leafs.

Two goals by Johnny Bucyk helped Boston whip New York 3-1 in Wednesday's other game.

Hull scored his 53rd and third in the last three games after Phil Esposito had hit twice for the Black Hawks. Later Hull assisted on defenseman Doug Jarrett's goal, running his point total to 93 with seven games remaining. The NHL record of 96 is held by Dickie Moore, who did it for Montreal in 1958-59.

Montreal has a one-point lead with eight to play. The Black Hawks have seven games remaining.

'It's Not Easy'

Iba Picks Kentucky For Title Laurels In NCAA

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Want a winner? Listen to Henry Iba and you'll take Kentucky.

"It's not easy," the veteran coach of Oklahoma State said when asked to pick a winner in the NCAA basketball championships.

"When you get to this stage," he said, "when you've got teams that have been through this testing, when you've got four left out of all the hundreds that started the season, you usually don't have that much left to pick from."

"I don't know a lot of these teams. I haven't seen them. I don't know their players."

"But I know Adolph Rupp. And from what I hear, he's got one of the greatest shooting teams he's ever had. And, young man, if that's true, he's got something."

"He's really got something worth seeing."

The test comes Friday night when Kentucky, the No. 1 team in the nation and 26-1 for the season, puts its hopes for a record fifth NCAA national championship on the line against Duke, the No. 2 team at 25-3. They clash in the semifinals.

Texas Western, No. 3 in the nation and 26-1, plays Utah, unranked and injury-hobbled, in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader. Utah is 23-6 for the season.

Grapplers' Ouster Is Not Popular

The disqualification of Bob Brown and Bob Geigel in their title meet with "Cowboy" Bob Ellis and The Stomper, giving the event to the latter pair resulted in confusion among the fans because the winners did not get the championship belts. They failed to get two pin falls and disqualifications do not count for the title.

So excited were ringsiders they "quoted" the newspapers had said disqualifications would count but a search of previous articles failed to bring forth any such comment. Championship meets are based strictly on pin falls and regardless what rumors are circulated a disqualification cannot award the title.

Following the event Cowboy Ellis and Stomper both agreed the ruling was correct. "It's tough those two birds pulled what they did to protect the belts, but they did and that's that." But, Ellis said, "there'll be another day—either in a single match or a team event with either Stomper or myself."

Stomper was anything but happy over the results. "But," he said, "Brown or Geigel neither one are really capable of holding those belts. They didn't want two referees in the first place. Too bad we didn't have the outside referee the first two falls, maybe it might have been different. I also agree with what Ellis has to say about it."

The first fall went nine minutes and 30 seconds with Ellis finally overpowering Brown for the first fall with a body press. The second fall went 15 minutes and 20 seconds with Geigel getting a reverse neck breaker on Ellis to win. The third fall ended after 14 minutes and 43 seconds when Referee Richard Moody was jumped on by Geigel and Brown and he disqualified them. The final decision brought the wrath on Moody by the fans, although Ellis and Stomper were the winners.

Lee Henning defeated Oki Shikima in a one-fall 20-minute time limit event after 16 minutes and 50 seconds had passed. Henning succeeded in putting on a series of back breakers on the Japanese followed by a press to win.

Without a doubt the most interesting scientific events seen in the local ring was the semi-feature between Sonny Myers of St. Joseph and Jerry Kozak of Pittsburgh, Pa. Discarding the "Texas rules" these two went to straight wrestling and ended the match on the 30-minute time limit in a draw. The event brought loud applause for both contestants who displayed some excellent sportsmanship during the event from the ringsiders.

Promoter Gust Karras, reported the matches would be resumed on Tuesday nights next week and with the top billing to go to Ernie "The Cat" Ladd, professional football player with the San Diego Chargers. Ladd tips the scales in the 300-pound area and stretches out in height to six feet and nine inches.

The Kansas City Chiefs have been bidding for Ladd's services and during the wrestling season he is one of the most sought-after boys in the mat sport, not to mention football.

Both the semifinals and finals Saturday night will be televised by Sports Network, Inc.

All but Texas Western are talking about injuries and illness, but Iba tends to discount that a bit.

Kentucky starting forward Larry Conley was bedded with the flu Tuesday night and 10 other team members were complaining of colds and chest pains. All are expected to be ready.

Duke's top scorer, Bob Verga, has a touch of tonsillitis. He's also counted on in a starting role, but may be at less than top strength.

Utah's troubles may be the most serious. George Fisher, the team's best rebounder, broke a leg in a late season game and is definitely out.

Sophomore Lyndon MacKay, a 6-foot-6 starting forward and possibly the team's most consistent player, twisted his left knee in a regional game and is a doubtful starter.

Utah got in late Wednesday night. The rest are scheduled to arrive today. All have short, closed practices scheduled on the University of Maryland campus.

Coronado Stags To AAU Play

By D. Kelly Scruton

The Coronado Stags of Columbia are headed for the National A. A. U. Basketball Tournament at Denver, Colo., this Sunday to play for National laurels. The Stags, who boasted a 20-0 record prior to entering the Sedalia Lions Invitational Tournament, suffered their only loss of the season to date when the Columbia Hurricane Travelers defeated them in the Thursday night game a week ago, 90-73—but there was a reason.

The Stags came to the local tournament a favorite, winning up to that fateful night. Then came the disappointment—in a way—they had but five players report. Other players, remained back in Columbia to rest and be prepared to travel to Marshalltown, Iowa, where they were to play in the A. A. U. Regionals. As a result the Hurricane Travelers took advantage of running the five down and emerged victors, and went on to win the Lions Tournament.

Meanwhile the Coronados traveled to Marshalltown and came through on Friday night. They would have had to have been in Sedalia if they had won here. They beat Hayman of St. Louis in a close one 72-71. They came back to beat North Dakota on Saturday 91-80.

Two Pettis Countians play with the Stags. Ned Monsees had a 2-8 for 12 points in the Hayman game and Olen Monsees scored one point in this contest. Against North Dakota Ned had an 11-point tally, while Olen pitched in 15 points.

Although the Sedalia Lions were sorry to see them have to play under the strained condition in that fateful night in the local tournament, they expressed happiness the team was able to re-coup for Friday in Marshalltown and go on to win the title to play in the Nationals at Denver this coming week.

The fact remains the Stags team is composed of former University of Missouri players. They have played together and know just about what each is thinking and as a result are making a terrific team. Because they are Missourians, all these fans who know the team and players are keeping their fingers crossed and hope they take the top honors of the A.A.U. in the nation.

Final State Title Bids Are Asked By Writers, 'Casters

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Members of the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association have voted to ask the State High School Board of Control to consider allowing prep basketball teams to play for a final state championship, not just class titles.

Spokesmen for the group said the members voted Sunday to make the request. The sportswriters and sportscasters propose that the Class S and Class M basketball champions play in the Class L state tournament each year.

The request has been sent to Irvin A. Keller, executive secretary of the Missouri State High School Activities Association in Columbia.

TOURNAMENT SITES

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The sites and dates of 33 state baseball tournaments sanctioned by the National Baseball Congress were released today.

The first state tourney will start July 1 and the last on Aug. 4.

All lead to the annual national tournament to be played here starting Aug. 12. Most state champions will meet in bi-state playoffs for regional titles and qualification to the national tourney.

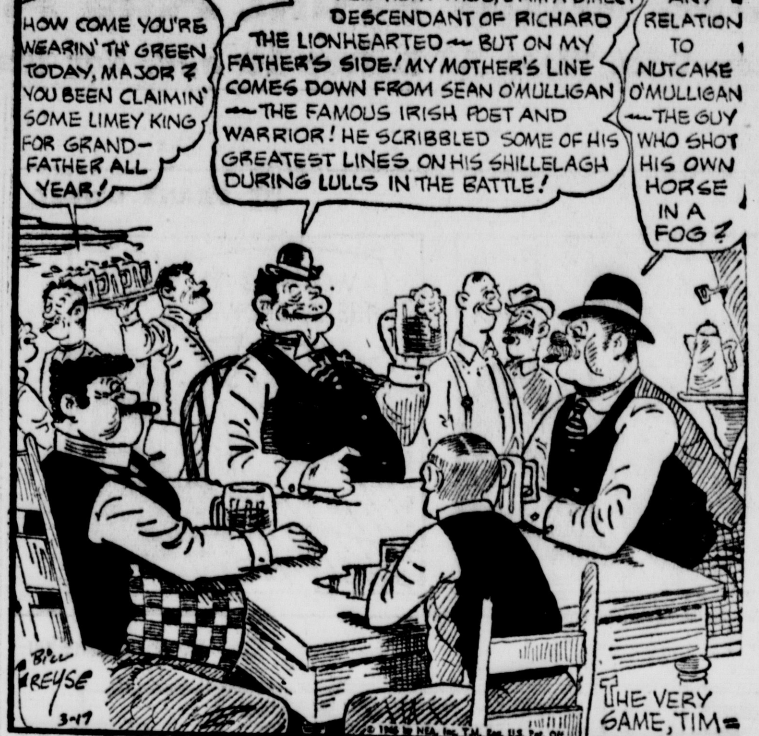

State tourney sites and dates established so far include Wichita, Kan., July 8 and Sedalia, Mo., July 18.

Two state tournaments apiece have been franchised in Oklahoma and Nevada with the winners meeting in a three-game series to decide the state titles.

is probably out for the season, and Kevin Loughery, sidelined with a sprained ankle. Playing despite injuries were Bob Ferry, Johnny Egan and Jerry Sloan.

"That's the way it's been all year," Seymour said. "Kevin had a tonsillotomy just before the opening game. Gus broke his wrist in the second game. Then John Kerr had a bad back. Ferry got the flu, and so did some of the others."

DeGaulle's Stock Falling In Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — Charles de Gaulle's stock is falling again in West Germany because he apparently wants France to do here just what he wants to stop the United States from doing in France. He is taking steps to put French forces in Germany fully under his own command.

There are 60,000 to 70,000 French troops in West Germany, at least on paper. The United States has 26,000 in France.

In West Germany, the troops of the United States, Britain and France still are stationed in the same areas they have held 20 years. About 50,000 British are in the north and 250,000 Americans in the central and southern portions of the country. The French are in the southwest.

Broom Still Has Same Old Meaning

IQUITOS, Peru (AP) — The tug Amazon Queen sported a broom lashed upright to her mast as she pushed four barges slowly up the dun-colored Amazon River.

Her whistle shrilled twice. A small crowd broke into applause as they watched her churn past.

Peru's development minister, Sixto Gutierrez, his white sport shirt pasted to his back by sweat, put up his hand to shield the sun and get a better look at the passing barges laden with roadbuilding machinery.

"Well, that's the first of three," he said. "And don't forget the broom. That's the human touch."

"Submariners used a broom in World War II when they came home. It means mission accomplished."

Gutierrez then made a little speech to half a hundred local residents. He called the Amazon Queen and her barges a "marvelous spectacle" and part of Peru's future.

With this machinery and more like it, men like Gutierrez and President Fernando Belaunde Terry hope to sweep away centuries of unproductiveness in Peru's jungle backcountry.

The jungle — called the Selva here — makes up about half of Peru. Its resources have been locked up for centuries by remoteness and the inaccessible Andes.

To unlock this rich area, Belaunde has a grand design: A two-lane highway transverse Peru north to south through the wilderness region between the high jungle of the Andes' eastern slopes and the Amazonian plains.

It's called the Jungle Marginal Road — La Carretera Marginal de la Selva.

The Amazon Queen's load of machinery will be used on one of the most important segments, 148 miles in northern Peru from Tarapoto to the Nieva River.

Target date for completion of this segment is 1971. Other parts of the 1,000-mile road have been begun. A preliminary engineering study last year figured the entire highway could be finished by 1979 at a cost of $172 million.

The Tarapoto-Nieva River segment will be built by Morrison-Knudsen Co., Inc., of Boise, Idaho, in cooperation with three other U.S. companies: J.A. Jones of Charlotte, N.C.; Oman of Nashville, Tenn., and Wright of Columbus, Ga.

The West Germans do not complain about this situation. Yet in some ways they are even more sensitive about national sovereignty than De Gaulle. In 1945, they were a defeated nation without rights. A decade later they joined the Atlantic Alliance. Any proposal that looks like a lowering of their status gets a most unfriendly reception in Bonn.

So the presence of foreign troops is all right with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government as long as they are under a unified Atlantic command, as are West Germany's own 400,000 men. Looking across the Iron Curtain that divides their country, the West Germans express worry if there is any question of cutting down the strength.

What the West Germans don't like is the idea of returning to anything like the situation right after World War II, when foreign troops occupying German territory were the supreme authority in the land. This could occur under present treaties if an emergency arose and the American, British and French commanders decided their troops were threatened—say by war or rioting. Erhard's government has been trying hard to eliminate this possibility but has run into domestic political difficulties.

Now the prospect arises that the French troops will revert to purely French command even without an emergency.

De Gaulle probably is ready to negotiate some kind of joint command directly with Erhard. But Erhard wrote him last week that all these matters concern the alliance as a whole and need to be negotiated with all 15 members. Naturally these include the United States.

De Gaulle has made it plain that he would like a European defense system built around his own nuclear force and allied only loosely with the United States. There has been much talk of a political and defense organization among the countries of the Common Market: France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. So far it has come to nothing.

None of the other governments, and particularly not the West German, is interested in a defense system designed to drive the United States out of Europe and to risk losing the protection of the American nuclear umbrella.

De Gaulle's plan to resume full control over French troops in Germany may be designed as pressure on the West Germans to change their minds. A Gaullist group active in West German politics wants to do just that. Its leaders are ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his former defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss. They belong to Erhard's Christian Democratic party but are at odds with him and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

Erhard and Schroeder now have the problem of how to keep the French troops in Germany, give up as little national sovereignty as possible and at the same time avoid antagonizing the United States by making a special deal with De Gaulle.
